PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 8.—A family of four, father, mother, son and daughter lay dead today, victims of a treacherous ice coated bridge from which their car skidded through an iron guard rail and fell 55 feet to the bank of a creek.

The accident, the worst automobile tragedy in Philadelphia for more than a year, happened last night on the Wyoming Ave. bridge in the northeast section.

Instant Death
So complete was the obliteration of the family group that several hours passed before police, sorting through a meager list of mutely pathetic clues, were able to establish identification early today.

The victims were:
Frank Kalkosinski, 42, owner of the Marsha Silk Hosiery Company, Philadelphia; his wife, Martha, 37; their daughter Helen 16, and their son Carroll, 13.

As the car hurtled through the air it turned end over end, and landed on its top. All four occupants died instantly, doctors said, of fractured skulls and other injuries.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 8.—Passed by directors of fourth class units, a resolution asking appointment of a committee to study merger of the state's school districts was slated for adoption at the closing session of the convention of the Pennsylvania School Directors Association here today.

Discarding their attitude of flat opposition to proposed plans for a larger unit of school administration, the fourth class delegates met at an unexpected meeting of the opening day's session and adopted the resolution, asking that the president of the association appoint three officials of the smaller districts on a committee to cooperate with other similar groups.

The proposal was assured passage on the floor of the convention today since the majority of districts in the state are fourth class units. Under the plan advanced before the legislature last year by Dr. James N. Rule, department of public instruction superintendent, all districts with less than 5000 population would be eliminated through merger, thus reducing the total number from 2500 to 500.

BANKER'S FATHER SAYS $200,000 RANSOM PAID

(International News Service)
ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 8.—A ransom of $200,000 was paid to the kidnappers of Edward G. Bremer, wealthy banker, the victim's father, Adolph Bremer, declared in a statement issued today.

Bremer said the ransom was paid in notes and bills, $85,000 of which were $5 notes and the remainder in $10 bills, as demanded by the abductors. The money, he added, was paid to the kidnappers Tuesday night. Visibly elated over the conclusion of the ordeal experienced by him since his son was kidnapped after taking his daughter to school on Jan. 17, the older Bremer, wealthy owner of the Jacob Schmidt Brewing Co., said he greatly appreciated the personal interest of President Roosevelt and the governor in the safe return of his son.

The younger Bremer returned to his father's home early today in good physical condition, despite the fact that a physician attended him for minor injuries incurred when he struggled with the abductors at the time of the "snatching."

Statement By Father.
Adolph Bremer's statement follows:

"I am so happy to tell you that my boy is back at last after his terrible experience. The hideous hours of suspense have been almost unbearable for all of us. I greatly appreciate the personal interest of the president, the governor, the city, state and federal law enforcing authorities have been most kind in their efforts and offers of assistance."

ST. PAUL, Feb. 8.—Edward G. Bremer, St. Paul banker kidnapped almost a month ago, returned to his home here this morning.

Under circumstances as mysterious as those in which he was abducted, the banker suddenly showed up at his residence. Although members of the family steadfastly refused to divulge the details of Bremer's startling appearance here, it was reported that contact with the kidnappers and the subsequent conclusion of negotiations resulted in his release.

Report $200,000 Paid.
At the same time it was reported that $200,000 ransom demanded by the kidnappers had been paid. Bremer refused to talk to reporters today, but a close friend of the family admitted the banker had been released from the hands of his captors last night near Rochester, Minn.

Bremer appeared at the residence after reaching St. Paul by train and bus. His condition was reported to be excellent despite the ordeal to which he had been subjected. Upon hearing of the banker's return, authorities went immediately to the residence to question him and members of the family. Clothed with Bremer this morning were Warner Haul, chief of the United States Bureau of Investigation here, Chief of Police Thomas Dahill and County Attorney M. S. Kinkaid.

Guard Residence.
A close guard was being maintained at the residence and anyone who sought entrance to the house was searched and questioned at length.

The residence to which Bremer went upon his release is located across the street from the brewery of his father, Adolph Bremer.

Until yesterday it was believed nothing had been heard from the kidnappers since the day that Bremer was "snatched" after taking his daughter to school. Members of the family and authorities had announced that yesterday would be the deadline for opening negotiations with the abductors. Late yesterday, however, it was announced the deadline had been extended 36 hours. This later announcement gave rise to the report that a contact with the kidnappers had been made.

GREENWOOD, Miss., Feb. 8.—Seeking to paint the late Dr. J. Preston Kennedy as an erratic, hard drinking character, defense counsel in the murder trial of Dr. Sara Ruth Dean today were to probe for secrets in the deceased surgeon's past life.

This will be attempted through cross-examination of the physician's brother, Henry Kennedy, who has waged an unremitting battle with the defense counsel since he first took the stand Monday.

The effort to present the dead physician as a man with a hectic past will be only a prelude to the two most sensational developments in the case.

Sensations Awaited.

One of these will be the reading by defense counsel of sample letters supposedly sent by Dr. Kennedy to Dr. Dean when the young surgeon's love for her was at its peak. One of these letters, it was divulged, contained this phrase:

"I am yours—you are mine!"

The second development—and the most eagerly awaited—will be the testimony from Dr. Dean herself on her relations with the man she is accused of murdering by putting poison into a highball at a "farewell meeting."

BANKER'S FATHER SAYS $200,000 RANSOM PAID

(International News Service)
ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 8.—A ransom of $200,000 was paid to the kidnapers of Edward G. Bremer, wealthy banker, the victim's father, Adolph Bremer, declared in a statement issued today.

Bremer said the ransom was paid in notes and bills, $85,000 of which were $5 notes and the remainder in $10 bills, as demanded by the abductors. The money, he added, was paid to the kidnapers Tuesday night.

Visibly elated over the conclusion of the ordeal experienced by him since his son was kidnapped after taking his daughter to school on Jan. 17, the older Bremer, wealthy owner of the Jacob Schmidt Brewing Co., said he greatly appreciated the personal interest of President Roosevelt and the governor in the safe return of his son.

The younger Bremer returned to his father's home early today in good physical condition, despite the fact that a physician attended him for minor injuries incurred when he struggled with the abductors at the time of the "snatching."

Statement By Father.

Adolph Bremer's statement follows:

"I am so happy to tell you that my boy is back at last after his terrible experience. The hideous hours of suspense have been almost unbearable for all of us. I greatly appreciate the personal interest of the president. The governor, the city, state and federal law enforcing authorities have been most kind in their efforts and offers of assistance."

Above all I will never forget their humane willingness to stand

U. S. TO SEEK ABDUCTORS

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Kidnaping of Edward G. Bremer was a successful "snatch" and a ransom for his release was paid over to the abductors.

This information came today from Attorney General Homer S. Cummings. He refused to elaborate further, or to say what amount was collected.

At the same time, Cummings revealed the department of justice was swinging into action to apprehend the kidnapers.

"The department will do the best it can to solve the case."

Commends CWA Work Done Here

Lawrence county has more to show for its expenditures of CWA money than most of the other counties of the state, according to Markley Stevenson, landscape engineer, who has charge of Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland for the Federal CWA.

"The work you are doing shows up well and the work on your park system is particularly commendable," said Mr. Stevenson. He was in New Castle on Wednesday and with Deputy CWA Administrator Matthew Guntton, and Landscape Architect Frank Patterson went over the projects of the county, with particular reference to the park system.

Banker In Good Physical Condition After His Long Ordeal

(BULLETIN)

ST. PAUL, Feb. 8.—Edward G. Bremer, St. Paul banker kidnaped almost a month ago, returned to his home here this morning.

Under circumstances as mysterious as those in which he was abducted, the banker suddenly showed up at his residence. Although members of the family steadfastly refused to divulge the details of Bremer's startling appearance here, it was reported that contact with the kidnapers and the subsequent conclusion of negotiations resulted in his release.

Report $200,000 Paid.

At the same time it was reported that $200,000 ransom demanded by the kidnapers had been paid. Bremer refused to talk to reporters today, but a close friend of the family admitted the banker had been released from the hands of his captors last night near Rochester, Minn.

Bremer appeared at the residence after reaching St. Paul by train and bus. His condition was reported to be excellent despite the long ordeal to which he had been subjected.

Upon hearing of the banker's return, authorities went immediately to the residence to question him and members of the family. Clothed with Bremer this morning were Warner Hani, chief of the United States Bureau of Investigation here, Chief of Police Thomas Dahill and County Attorney M. S. Kinkaid.

Guard Residence.

A close guard was being maintained at the residence and anyone who sought entrance to the house was searched and questioned at length.

The residence to which Bremer went upon his release is located across the street from the brewery of his father, Adolph Bremer.

Until yesterday it was believed nothing had been heard from the kidnapers since the day that Bremer was "snatched" after taking his daughter to school. Members of the family and authorities had announced that yesterday would be the deadline for opening negotiations with the abductors. Late yesterday, however, it was announced the deadline had been extended 36 hours. This later announcement gave rise to the report that a contact with the kidnapers had been made.

WOMAN ACCUSED IN MURDER CASE TESTIFIES

Mrs. Grace Mull On Witness Stand In Murder Trial

Accused Woman Tells Of Almost "Motherly" Devotion For Slain Young Woman

WAS NOT JEALOUS SHE TELLS COURT

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 8.—With the defense attempting to show that jealousy and the "other woman" were not motives for the slaying of Margaret Schwab, Pittsburgh's "mystery girl", Mrs. Grace Mull, on the stand in her own behalf, today told of a close devotion and almost motherly care for the 21-year-old death victim.

Taking the stand a few minutes after her son, Elmer, was freed of a murder charge in connection with the mysterious woman's death, Mrs. Mull told the jury she and the murder victim had lived together, sharing expenses, while they worked in local packing plants.

Was Not Jealous.

In attempting to overthrow the charge of "jealousy" as a motive, the defense showed that Mrs. Mull bore no ill-feeling toward the girl, although she knew the death victim had been intimate with her husband.

She said an argument arose between the murdered girl, her husband and herself the night before Margaret's bullet-shattered body was found stuffed in a sewer in Verona. Mrs. Mull added, however, that the girl had left them before they returned to Pittsburgh because of the argument and had gone in the direction of Red Onion, a community near the Mulls' cabin. That was the last time they saw her alive, she said.

PA NEW OBSERVES

The present cold snap is the longest that has been experienced in several years.

This morning's descent of the weather to sub-zero in this district was rather a surprise. There was no indication of such a change in the temperature early last night.

An alarm system coming from the Lawrence Laundry is being installed at Central station. It comes from the laundry building on South Mill street, over telephone wires. If a fire breaks out in the building, or the system gets out of order, a red light shows in a small cabinet at Central station.

of the most popular French war commanders, who repressed the Abd-el-Krim revolt in Morocco.

Leading Personalities.

This led to the belief that Doumergue plans to form a government of leading personalities who are not politicians and political personages represented by former premiers. Lyautey, though eighty years old, is in good health and remains a formidable figure in French military life. He was with Doumergue for some time.

The immense popularity of the "Man with the Smile" was shown as soon as he arrived at the Gare D'Orsay on an express train which had brought him from Toulouse, where he has his home, in southern France.

With shouts of "Vive Doumergue!" and "Vive La France!" great crowds hailed the veteran statesman's return into public life. Doumergue's famous smile was even, wider than usual as he acknowledged the roaring greeting.

His eager welcome would hardly allow his motor car to pass through the streets as he was driven across the Seine to the Rue Rivoli hotel, where he established headquarters.

He stayed there but a short while, emerging at 10:15 to go to the Elysee Palace, French "White House." Another crowd followed him there and he walked outside while Doumergue and Le Brun held their momentous meeting.

Accepts Mission

At the conclusion of the conference President Le Brun issued the following brief but happy communiqué:

"The president of the Republic has received M. Gaston Doumergue this morning, and he confirmed to the president that he had accepted the mission of forming a new cabinet."

Tumultuous cheers greeted the announcement, and last night's loud protests of communists and radicals that a dictatorship was being established to the detriment of democracy were drowned in joyous acclaim that the Republic was to be "saved."

A government of "strong men," of dictatorial aspect if necessary, was contemplated, but the great mass of the French public appeared to be in favor of it as it did a similar government under premier Poincare in 1920.

Royalists and communists remained active in their protests against Doumergue's selection, but up until now there were no disorders.

The city was quiet after 2 a. m., when last night's rioting ended with a quick stop.

a reported death toll of at least 10, with hundreds injured. Although police denied there were any fatalities last night, the newspaper "Midl" reported 11 had been killed, while "Intransigent" put the death toll at 10.

Calls Upon Daladier

Doumergue detailed himself at the foreign office after lunch, taking an office formerly used by Aristide Briand. He saw Marshal Lyautey after paying a courtesy call upon Edouard Daladier, the retiring premier.

Emerging from his talk with Daladier with whom he chatted briefly, Doumergue showed less good humor, evidently having been made acquainted by Daladier with the seriousness of the difficulties confronting him.

Speaking his native languedoc dialect, he growled:

"Sapristi! which might be interpreted to mean: 'Damn it all!'"

Then he said with a grin:

"I need language to express myself fully in this situation."

Nevertheless, if Doumergue succeeds in forming a real national government and a parliamentary truce is declared whereby parliament gives him full authority for a year, possibly to rule by decree the country, probably will speedily return to normal.

Daladier and his minister of the interior, Eugene Frot, have ended the possibility of a radical socialist majority continuing to rule the country. Daladier is a moderate, but Frot, under whose direction the police actually moved down the crowds, is receiving the brunt of criticisms from all sides.

Fellow members of the Paris Bar call him an "assassin" as did the mobs in the streets and demand that he be disbarred.

It is charged that he insisted yesterday that Daladier refuse to resign, promising that he would subjugate the mobs with machine guns.

Cold in East

Winters' icy hand brought the mercury to 15 below at Monroe, 10 below at Cayuga, and six below at Wilkes-Barre.

Erie, on the shores of Lake Erie, shivered in the coldest temperature in 15 years as the mercury sank to seven degrees below. This standing shattered all Erie records since February 5, 1913.

According to Weatherman W. S. Brozman at Pittsburgh, the cold wave originated in the Hudson Bay section of northern Ontario and began moving south and has spread out until it now covers most of the Ohio valley. It is now moving east.

Little relief is in sight before tomorrow.

But Doc Chuck had read enough. He laid his paper aside, rolled up into a compact ball of fur and decided to go to sleep for the remainder of the winter.

No More Piles

You Can End Your Awful Misery Quick Without Cutting or Salves

Thousands of Pile sufferers do not know that the cause of Piles is internal—bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel.

This is the scientific truth about Piles—the very reason why salves and suppositories do not give permanent relief, why cutting does not remove the cause.

Your itching, bleeding or protruding Piles will only go when you actually remove the cause—and not one minute before. External treatments can't do this—an internal medicine prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonard, sold by good druggists everywhere, succeeds because it stimulates the circulation, drives out congested blood, heals and restores the almost dead parts.

So why waste time on external remedies or worry about an operation when Baker's Cut Rate and New Castle Drug Co. bottles every Pile sufferer can get rid of their piles and their misery, no matter how stubborn the case?

Beaten By Abductors

(Copyright 1934, By International News Service)
ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 8.—Edward G. Bremer, St. Paul banker who returned to his home today after three weeks in the hands of kidnapers, was beaten when he attempted to resist his abductors. International News Service learned from reliable sources.

However, although he bled freely, Bremer was not severely hurt, according to this information.

In addition, it was learned, Bremer was driven about for fifteen hours in an automobile immediately after he was kidnapped while on the way to his bank in St. Paul.

As soon as he learned the object of his kidnapers, circles close to the family stated, Bremer tried to overpower the criminals and escape, but found the force of numbers too much for him.

Abductively inclined and possessed of a quick temper, Bremer made immediate efforts to get away from his captors. They struck him and inflicted injuries which accounted for the bloodstains found on the front seat of his car.

It was these stains which led to reports Bremer might have been murdered by his captors.

Rides Fifteen Hours

When he was finally subdued Bremer was pulled out of his own car by the kidnapers and placed in another one held in readiness. The ensuing ride lasted for fifteen hours and at length the kidnapers stopped in front of a house, believed somewhere near Rochester, Minn.

Here Bremer was held until last night.

Except for the first attack upon him, it was learned Bremer was well treated during the entire time he was held prisoner. He was given good food and plenty of it, and furnished a comfortable place to sleep.

In the brief scuffle which preceded the actual kidnaping, International News Service was informed, Bremer had no opportunity to see his captors clearly. He was blindfolded almost immediately and bandages were kept on his eyes during all of his captivity.

After Adolf Bremer, millionaire brewer and father of the kidnap victim, established contact with the criminals and paid over a ransom, the banker was released.

When the money had been paid, Bremer was placed in an automobile, still blindfolded and driven for several hours. He was turned loose on a lonely road near Rochester, 85 miles from St. Paul.

He boarded a bus and came into St. Paul arriving this morning and going at once to the home of his father, where he has been closeted with police and federal investigators ever since.

Bremer is in good shape and able to detail his experience to the officers.

Guntton Stood High In State

In the scoring of examination results in the recently held state liquor control board examination Louis Guntton, the manager of the New Castle store, finished third high in the entire state, according to information received here today. WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral waters or laxatives. Get your bowels and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your downcast mood is in your liver. It should pour out two pounds of bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. You feel sick and your bowels are full. You feel as though you were being strangled. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes these good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get this two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel up and up. They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. 25c and 50c drug stores. ©1931 C. M. C.

WOMAN ACCUSED IN MURDER CASE TESTIFIES

Mrs. Grace Mull On Witness Stand In Murder Trial

Accused Woman Tells Of Almost "Motherly" Devotion For Slain Young Woman

WAS NOT JEALOUS
SHE TELLS COURT

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 8.—With the defense attempting to show that jealousy and the "other woman" were not motives for the slaying of Margaret Schwick-rath, Pittsburgh's "mystery girl", Mrs. Grace Mull, on the stand in her own behalf, today told of a close devotion and almost motherly care for the 23-year-old death victim.

Taking the stand a few minutes after her son, Elmer, was freed of a murder charge in connection with the mystery woman's death, Mrs. Mull told the jury she and the murder victim had lived together, sharing expenses, while they worked in local packing plants.

Was Not Jealous.
In attempting to overthrow the cry of "jealousy" as a motive, the defense showed that Mrs. Mull bore no ill-feeling toward the girl, although she knew the death victim had been intimate with her husband who also is on trial for the slaying.

She said an argument arose between the murdered girl, her husband and herself, the night before Margaret's bullet-shattered body was found stuffed in a sewer in Verona. Mrs. Mull added, however, that the girl had left before they returned to Pittsburgh because of the argument and had gone in the direction of Red Onion, a community near the Mulls' cabin. That was the last time they saw her alive, she said.

PA NEW OBSERVES

The present cold snap is the longest that has been experienced in several years.

This morning's descent of the weather to sub-zero in this district was rather a surprise. There was no indication of such a change in the temperature early last night.

CALM IS RESTORED AFTER RIOTING IN STREETS OF PARIS

of the most popular French war commanders, who repressed the Abd-el-Krim revolt in Morocco.

Leading Personalities.
This led to the belief that Doumergue plans to form a government of leading personalities who are not politicians and political personages represented by former premiers.

Lyautey, though eighty years old, is in good health and remains a forceful figure in French military life. He was with Doumergue for some time. The immense popularity of the "Man with the Smile" was shown as soon as he arrived at the Gare D'Orsay on an express train which had brought him from Toulouse, where he has his home, in southern France.

With shouts of "Vive Doumergue!" and "Vive La France!" great crowds hailed the veteran statesman's re-entry into public life. Doumergue's famous smile was even wider than usual as he acknowledged the roaring greeting.

His eager welcome would hardly allow his motor car to pass through the streets as he was driven across the Seine to the Rue Rivoli hotel, where he established headquarters.

He stayed there but a short while, emerging at 10:15 to go to the Elysee Palace. French "White House." Another crowd followed him there and waited outside while Doumergue and Le Brun held their momentous meeting.

Accepts Mission
At the conclusion of the conference President Le Brun issued the following brief but happy communique:

"The President of the Republic has received M. Gaston Doumergue this morning, and he confirmed to the president that he had accepted the mission of forming a new cabinet."

Tumultuous cheers greeted the announcement, and last night's loud protests of communists and royalists that a "dictatorship was being established to the detriment of democracy were drowned in joyous acclaim that the Republic was to be saved."

A government of "strong men," of dictatorial aspect if necessary, was contemplated, but the great mass of the French public appeared to be in favor of it as it did a similar government under premier Poincare in 1900.

Royalists and communists remained active in their protests against Doumergue's selection, but up until noon there were no disorders.

The city was quiet after 2 a. m., when last night's rioting ended with a reported death toll of at least 10, with hundreds injured. Although police denied there were any fatalities last night, the newspaper "Midi" reported 11 had been killed, while "l'Intransigeant" put the death toll at 10.

Calls Upon Daladier
Doumergue installed himself at the foreign office after luncheon, taking an office formerly used by Aristide Briand. He saw Marshal Lyautey after paying a courtesy call upon Edouard Daladier, the retiring premier.

Emerging from his talk with Daladier, with whom he chatted briefly, Doumergue showed less good humor, evidently having been made acquainted by Daladier with the seriousness of the difficulties confronting him.

Speaking his native languedoc dialect, he growled:

"Sapristi!" which might be interpreted to mean, "Damn it all!"

Then he said with a grin:

"I need language to express myself fully in this situation."

Nevertheless, if Doumergue succeeds in forming a real national government and a parliamentary true is declared whereby parliament gives him full authority for a year, possibly to rule by decree the country probably will speedily return to normal.

Daladier and his minister of the interior, Eugene Frot, have ended the possibility of a radical socialist majority continuing to rule the country. Daladier is blamed for the bloodshed in the two days of rioting but Frot, under whose direction the police actually moved down the crowds, is receiving the brunt of criticisms from all sides.

Fellow members of the Paris Bar call him an "assassin" as did the mobs in the streets and demand that he be disbarred.

It is charged that he insisted yesterday that Daladier refuse to resign, promising that he would subjugate the mobs with machine guns.

Cold in East
Winters' icy hand brought the mercury to 15 below at Montrose, 10 below at Graceland, and six below at Wilkes-Barre.

Erie, on the shores of Lake Erie, shivered in the coldest temperature in 15 years as the mercury sank to seven degrees below. This standing shattered all Erie records since February 5, 1913.

According to Weatherman W. S. Brotzman at Pittsburgh, the cold wave originating in the Hudson Bay section of northern Ontario and began moving south and has spread out until it now covers most of the Ohio valley. It is now moving east.

No More Piles

You Can End Your Awful Misery
Quick Without Cutting or Salves

Thousands of Pile sufferers do not know that the cause of Piles is internal—bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel.

This is the scientific truth about Piles—the real reason why salves and suppositories do not give permanent relief, why cutting does not remove the cause.

Your itching, bleeding or protruding Piles will only go when you actually remove the cause—and not one minute before. Eternal treatments can't do this—an internal medicine should be used. HEM-ROID, sold by good druggists everywhere, succeeds because it stimulates the circulation, drives out congested blood, heals and restores the almost dead parts.

So why waste time on external remedies or worry about an operation when HEM-ROID cuts out every Pile sufferer's cause of misery. It does not and their Piles, no matter how stubborn the case?

kidnaping, was believed to be closeted with the family and investigators at the Bremer home. McGee, a close friend of the banker, had been trying to contact the kidnapers, but without success, it was believed until yesterday.

Beaten By Abductors
(Copyright 1934, By International News Service)

ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 8.—Edward G. Bremer, St. Paul banker who returned to his home today after three weeks in the hands of kidnapers, was beaten when he attempted to resist his abductors. International News Service learned from reliable sources.

However, although he bled freely, Bremer was not severely hurt, according to this information.

In addition, it was learned, Bremer was driven about for fifteen hours in an automobile immediately after he was kidnaped while on the way to his bank in St. Paul.

As soon as he learned the object of his kidnapers, Bremer tried to overpower the criminals and escape, but found the force of numbers too much for him.

Athletically inclined and possessed of a quick temper, Bremer made immediate efforts to get away from his captors. They struck him and inflicted injuries which accounted for the bloodstains found on the front seat of his car.

It was these stains which led to reports Bremer might have been murdered by his captors.

Rides Fifteen Hours

When he was finally subdued Bremer was pulled out of his own car by the kidnapers and placed in another one held in readiness. The ensuing ride lasted for fifteen hours and at length the kidnapers stopped in front of a house, believed somewhere near Rochester, Minn.

Here Bremer was held until last night.

Except for the first attack upon him, it was learned Bremer was well treated during the entire time he was held prisoner. He was given good food and plenty of it, and furnished a comfortable place to sleep.

In the brief scuffle which preceded the actual kidnaping, International News Service was informed, Bremer had no opportunity to see his captors clearly. He was blindfolded almost immediately and bandages were kept on his eyes during all of his captivity.

After Adolph Bremer, millionaire brewer and father of the kidnap victim, established contact with the criminals and paid over a ransom, the banker was released.

When the money had been paid, Bremer was placed in an automobile, still blindfolded and driven for several hours. He was turned loose on a lonely road near Rochester, 85 miles from St. Paul.

He boarded a bus and came into St. Paul arriving this morning and going at once to the home of his father, where he has been closeted with police and federal investigators ever since.

Bremer is in good shape and able to detail his experience to the officers.

Whose Fault?

When a Child Won't Study

"Kept after school!" And it isn't the child's fault, or the teacher's. His mother is to blame. How can a boy get his lessons when his senses are dulled day after day by dosing with sickening purgatives? When a child's bowels are stagnant they need help, of course. But not some drastic drug to upset the stomach, perhaps weaken the entire system; or form the laxative habit. On the right, parents will find a happy solution of this problem:

Here's a boy who gets good marks, has time and energy for play. He is never ill, hardly ever has so much as a cold. When he does show any symptoms of being sluggish, his mother knows just what to do. She gives him a little California Syrup of Figs—and that is all. It's a natural, fruity laxative that is agreeable to take, and its gentle laxative action comes from senna. Parents are urged to use just pure California Syrup of Figs. Be sure bottle says "California".

All Of Us

BY MARSHALL MASLIN

THAT OLD LADY
That Old Lady must be dead now. She was old even then, more than sixteen years ago it was, when George and I met her for the first and only time on that lonely road by the sea.

I don't really know much about her. And all I remember is that rich half hour of walking, talking, shrieking and laughing along that darkening road. George and I were soldiers, sloppy and careless, but happy, and we had taken leave for a day to walk to a little stone-walled town on the Brittany coast. We sat on the shore and watched the waves roll in to our feet and eaten lunch, in a dirty little roadside inn, and given hardly a thought to the war that was soon to engulf us—nor to all those millions of men up there on the mysterious "front" to the north of us.

And coming home, happily, we encountered this old witch. I call her "witch" because that's what she may have been. She was trudging along with a sack on her back, and we halted her as "grandmother" and took turns carrying the sack of shellfish that, strangely enough, she carried more easily than we did. I think she wasn't exactly respectable. She made jokes in her patois that didn't quite get, and suspected were hardly printable. She leered at a sailor who passed with his girl. She shrieked like a gull, chattered like a parrot, laughed like a hyena, and whenever she saw us falter she praised us for grand, strong boys and flattered us into any every once more. That old lady!

Thus on through the gathering darkness we went with that screaming old lady of the sea, until at last she stopped and fluttered off into an alleyway with her dirty, ragged skirts trailing behind her, screaming good night as she went. . . . And we found she had taken us many miles out of our way.

That's all. . . . Just an ignorant old fish-wife on a road in Brittany.

And I wonder why my memory, which has let slip so much else, still clings to her. . . . I wonder, but I think I do know. . . . I think it's because she was completely alive, so vivid, so noisy, so curious, so eager, such a busy, chuckling, waggle-tongue, chatterbox of a human being. . . . I remember her as one who loved life, and though we all think we love life, not many of us live as if we did. She clutched it with her skinny claws and hugged it to her old breast, and laughed for joy of being alive. . . . and who could never be forgetting an old lady like that?

Your Income Tax

No. 10
EXEMPTION ALLOWED HEAD OF A FAMILY

A head of a family is defined by income-tax regulations as "an individual who actually supports and maintains in one household one or more persons who are closely connected with him by blood relationship, relationship by marriage or by adoption, and whose right to exercise family control and provide for these dependent individuals is based upon some moral or legal obligation." The exemption allowed a head of a family is $2,500. The phrase "in one household" may be interpreted as meaning the taxpayer's personal residence, an apartment, rooms in a boarding house, hotel, etc.

Under certain circumstances it is not necessary that the taxpayer and his dependents live under one roof during the entire taxable year in order that the taxpayer may claim the exemption. If the common home being maintained, the parent is away on business, or a child away at school or on a visit, the exemption is allowed. Moreover, if a parent is obliged to maintain his dependent children with relatives or in a boarding house, while he lives elsewhere, the exemption still applies. If, however, without necessity, the dependent makes his home elsewhere, the benefactor is not the head of a family.

The same ruling applies to husband and wife "living together." If occasionally and temporarily the husband is away on business or the wife on a visit, the common home being maintained, the $2,500 exemption still applies. The unavoidable absence of husband or wife at a sanatorium does not preclude the exemption. But if the husband continuously makes his home at another place and the wife at another, they are not living together within the meaning of the revenue act.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

HOW ABOUT IT?
Following the reported death of Czar Alexander I of Russia in 1825 there were rumors that he was seen alive in various places.

It was known that Alexander had talked of abdication. A Russian nobleman known as Feodor Koushchik, living in a Gosenok village where he gave all his time to caring for the sick, teaching children and showing peasants how to farm better, was believed to have been the former czar, trying to hide his identity. It is also known that the czarina visited Koushchik before his death as an old man in 1864. These stories have persisted ever since.

Several times orders were given to open Alexander's tomb to see if he really was buried, but these orders never were carried out, always being rescinded. Recently, Soviet officials searching for jewels in the imperial tombs came upon Alexander's coffin and pined it. It was empty.

GOOD SONG LED HIM
A man who has been living a life that was, to put it mildly, a little irregular, wanted to have his life insured, and applied to a friend, an agent for a prominent company, for a policy. The agent sent the company's physician to examine the applicant, and that was the last he heard of it for some time.

Meeting his friend on the street, he said: "Say, George, how about that life insurance of mine? Don't I get it?"

"Well," said the agent, "you know, in our company it is the custom for the physician, after he examines a man, to take a chart of the human body, and he punches a hole in it wherever he finds anything wrong."

"Oh, is that so, George? Did the doctor do that in my case?"

"He sure did; and he took the chart home and put it on the player piano, and it played 'Nearer My God to Thee'."

Our Foremost Critic
Europe Remains Skeptical
Liberal Party Revives

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—It will not be Ogden Mills or Nicholas Murray Butler or Norman Thomas who will become the most devastating critic of the Roosevelt administration. It's not likely to be anybody in the United States. It probably will be no less than Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy. He already has pook-pooked the "New Deal" in diplomatic language, a dissolution of the American deal, a veil hiding the facts from eyes that do not desire to see.

None of the American theories seems to appeal to him.

SKEPTICAL

Europe remains skeptical of the Roosevelt moves.

One has only to read the headlines from Europe:

Berlin: "Germany fears change in dollar. Further alteration of gold content of American currency seen as possibility. Move viewed as dubious. Belief persists in re-echo that world-wide return to gold standard is inevitable."

Paris: "Dollar's behavior a surprise in Paris. Its failure to establish theoretical market value puzzles Europeans. Fluctuation is marked. Management of United States exchange equalization fund is criticized by French."

Amsterdam: "Dutch doubt American return to gold standard; believe the dollar is strongly undervalued."

Says Berlin: It is expected if a depreciation of currency by 41 per cent remains fixed, the United States price will rise to the international price parity, and that the stock market will correspondingly advance. The majority of countries, however, after the termination of currency fluctuations, suffered a temporary stabilization crisis due to the discouragement of those enterprises that counted on a progressive currency depreciation for their profits."

PEACE?

The Liberal party in England is reviving with its old slogan: "Free trade!"

Proponents declare that nothing would go further toward lifting the depression and preventing wars.

Strong nationalistic tendencies, however, now are at a peak seldom, if ever, attained previously.

Each country seems to be making its citizenry war-conscious.

Nobody knows why there should be a war, why additional millions of men should be slaughtered, why civilization should be set back.

Each country strives to be the most militant.

"The thinker is taunted as a coward. The blatant is in full power. Liberal parties are not likely to gain ascendancy. The fight is between greater extremes than conservatives and liberals. Their intoxicants are not strong enough."

DOOM?

Oswald Spengler, philosopher, sees all nations speeding toward doom because they will not face realities.

He views nations as groups of ferocious animals, whose natural tendencies are hatred and fights.

He pictures the Victorian age as a mere lull in these tendencies.

He visions no peace. Why? Because no man is strong enough to speak the truth.

He says: "Not a statesman, not a party, hardly even a political thinker is today in a safe enough position to speak the truth. They all lie, they all join in the chorus of the pampered ignorant crowd who want their tomorrow to be like the good old days, only more so—although statesmen and economic leaders at least ought to be alive to the frightful reality. Only look at our leaders of today! Once a month their cowardly and dishonest optimism announces the upswing of the cycle and 'prosperity,' on the strength of a mere flutter on the stock exchange caused by building speculations; the end of unemployment, from the moment that a hundred men or so are given jobs, and as the climax the achievement of 'mutual understanding between the nations,' as soon as the League—that swarm of parasitic holiday makers on the Lake of Geneva—has formulated any sort of resolution."

"And in every conference and every paper the word 'crisis' is banded about in connection with any passing disturbance of the peace. And thus we deceive ourselves, blind to the fact that we have here one of those incalculable great catastrophes that force the normal form in which history makes its major turns."

Those who are interested may read the whole amazing article, under the title "The Return of the Caesars" in The American Mercury for February. It is creating considerable comment.

NO TROOPS

Frances Perkins, secretary of labor, may go down in history.

Labor disputes of major proportions are being settled without the use of troops on a single occasion.

Under previous administrations there have been troops, bloodshed and long-continued parades.

Under Frances Perkins both industry and labor come together. So far that has saved the country tens of millions of dollars. And workers have gained new rights.

(Although workers of the Soviets still smile over the rights that American workers have not gained.)

TODAY Is The Day

THURSDAY, FEB. 8

Historic Anniversaries 1587—Mary Stuart, queen of Scots, aged 45, and her husband, James VI of Scotland, were executed by beheading to satisfy Elizabeth, queen of England. She left behind some of most famous love letters. Except from one to Earl of Bothwell, who became her third husband after he had murdered her second.

"Yes, I protest my dear Bothwell that for a humble life with you I gladly would exchange this load of greatness and throw it to those who seem ambitious for it, this gaudy burden of a crown. But even that is a privilege denied to me. I must either continue to reign or cease to reign. Beattie me, all the consolation your unhappy Queen enjoys is in hearing from you."

1701—Congress created Bank of United States, capital $10,000,000, at Philadelphia, to act for government in fiscal affairs. It paid an average dividend of 8 1/2 per cent, stabilized finances of nation, caused organization of scores of private banks. These banks, when called by the Bank of U. S. to loan money, were charged renewed, blocked the extension of its life on the ground that it was unconstitutional and that the government should stay out of business! They won, and by 1815, all but 2 or 3 banks in the country were broke!

1707—U. S. had a President and Vice President of different parties for first and last time. Electors had voted this date, chose John Adams, President; Thomas Jefferson, Vice President. (Possibility of differing political faith from his President was ended by 12th Amendment, enacted in 1803.)

1810—Sons of Daniel Boone and Woodcraft Indians called the Boy Scouts of America, in emulation of boy scouts organized by Sir Robert Baden-Powell in South Africa and England.

Notables Born This Date—William Tecumseh Sherman, b. 1820, great federal general who DIDN'T say "war is hell." What he did say was: "If the people raise a howl against my barbarity and cruelty, I will answer that war is war, and not popularity—ehing!"  John R. bot and Charles Ruggles, cinematographers.

In The "G. O. Days"—Albert of Bollstadt, Bishop of Regensburg, one of the great 13th century scientists, believed certain plants had supernatural powers and advised persons to plant houseleek upon their roofs to ward off thunderbolts. That's why "growing" roofs were common in his day.

Forgotten Heroes Of Yesterday, Johnathan Trumbull—The only colonial governor who favored independence for the American colonies in 1776. He was called "Brother Johnathan" by Washington, a term applied affectionately to the whole country before "Uncle Sam" became its appellation.

ARE YOU A GROUCH?
How easy it is to get into grouchy habits.

Every one has annoyances enough to make him irritable and displeased.

Not every one has the grace to let the unpleasant things of life roll off—some let them settle down instead, with "grouch" as a result.

When you display this disagreeable nature it becomes evident that you have a very little control over your motions.

Those whom you contact may have less control than you have.

Then what is going to happen?

Most grouchy folk are mental weaklings anyway though they would not like to hear it said of them.

Certainly they are not their own masters.

It may all start quite simply through imitation of some associate.

But that is a weakness, isn't it?

It may have increased because none has had the temerity to reprove the grouch.

To prove that grumpiness can be controlled you have only to watch a lot of men while under the eye of the boss and when they are out of his hearing.

The family is not always in a position to penalize the grouch and it is they who have the hardest time of it trying to swallow their discomfort and look pleasant, some don't try.

HERE COMES EMMA

BACK home after 14 years of exile, Emma Goldman, one of America's original communists, finds a United States far different from the one she left without too much reluctance in 1920. In fact had this remarkable transformation not taken place she would not be here on a 90-day presidential permit.

When "Red Emma" was placed aboard a ship bound for Russia by department of justice agents the United States was the scene of unprecedented labor troubles, was not enjoying too much prosperity and had worked itself up or had been worked up into a fever of "Red" hysteria. The "Red Peril" had supplanted the "Yellow Peril" in the minds of the imaginative and in the inflammatory oratory of politicians.

In the intervening 14 years America tasted unprecedented prosperity and also the opposite extreme of hard times; it has seen capitalism glorified in the minds of the people and seen the same capitalism fail the nation and the people in a crisis; and it has experienced a change of heart toward Soviet Russia. The American people no more embrace communism today than they did in 1920, but neither do they fear the new Russia.

Emma is finding a different psychology prevailing among her adopted people (she was born in Russia) but the change is not due to her martyrdom.

SOIL THAT DISAPPEARS

Creation of the soil-erosion service in the Department of Interior and the formulation of a vast program for it do not necessarily tend to defeat the purposes of plans of the federal government for farm relief through crop reduction. The government will not reclaim erosive lands for cultivation.

Erosion is an ancient devourer of agricultural land, but its destructive power has only recently been realized. Denude a slope of its trees, burn away its brush and turn herds and flocks upon it to keep its grass eaten close to the turf and erosion within a few years will convert it into a barren, gullied land.

Knowing these facts the government is justifiably alarmed and concerned, but it could not spare the money at this time if it were not possible to kill two birds with one stone. Land reclamation of any sort provides a high percentage of reemployment per dollar invested.

Perhaps the largest project the new federal service will undertake is the 15,000,000-acre undertaking in Arizona, New Mexico and Utah. The Navajo and Zuni reservations are in this area, which is another argument in favor of the scheme.

Out of this program will come millions of acres of valuable forests, new grazing areas and a paradise for sportsmen. And in the mean time the jobless will be given work and many unprofitable farms will be taken off the hands of struggling farmers and ranchers.

AIDING RECOVERY

A new industry—creating a demand for employment which had not formerly existed—is said to have accompanied the recovery from every major depression in the United States.

Railroads and expansion into the west were developed during the latter part of the 19th Century and the automotive industry supplied the needed impetus during any lapse in economic conditions during the last 30 years.

With expansion of the airplane industry lacking at the present time and interest in aviation still in its infancy, it would appear that there is no similar stimulus to aid the present recovery.

While not entirely new, there are sufficient improvements and changes in the railroad industry not to materially effect its influence upon present economic conditions. Electrification of many of the giant railroad companies of the east has been contemplated and air-conditioned cars have made traveling more comfortable and created considerably increased competition among leading railroad systems.

Both improvements have made considerable impression upon the industry and the effects of their successful operation and a corresponding increase in traffic should prove stimulating to business in general and an aid to depressed conditions.

ROUTING HIGHWAYS AROUND CITIES

There was once a great hue and cry on the part of merchants and business men to have the main highways routed through their cities and even on the business streets. Now it is realized by practically every one that this has become not only impracticable from the standpoint of the motorists' convenience but also from the standpoint of good business.

It is impossible almost for any motorist to find a place to park in any of our larger towns and cities even if he should desire to stop—and if he finds it a matter of necessity or desire he usually drives into a garage or filling station or where parking space is available.

The time has come in the extensive planning which is being done by the federal and state governments in highway construction and in providing work for the unemployed to change the routes of these through highways so that they can pass around, instead of through, the congested centers of population.

This will greatly facilitate travel and prevent traffic congestion in the cities for those who desire to do business with the merchants and others.

WHAT DO GIRLS TALK MOST ABOUT?

It took a squad of scientific investigators toiling for 54 weeks to determine that the subject most talked about by girls working at "monotonous" occupations was—guess what? Men! Think of girls, idle girls or working girls, wasting valuable conversational opportunities in discussing men as a favorite topic. It is almost unbelievable. According to the same investigators, the girls' second most popular subject was working conditions, then followed movies and their heroes, gossip and scandal, and clothes, in the order named.

To gain this valuable information the scientific inquirers established "listening posts" to eavesdrop—and we call it a mean trick. What did they expect to hear, anyway? It's too bad the girls couldn't have given the snooters some light talk about the nebular hypothesis, the music of Richard Wagner or the price of gold in the open market. It would have served the spies right.

At last we are so unified that state lines aren't good for anything except to hide behind.

If "life is a ladder with many rungs missing," perhaps this explains why one has to stretch so hard at times going up and slips so easily coming down.

All Of Us

BY MARSHALL MASLIN

WHAT OLD LADY

That Old Lady must be dead now. . . . She was old even then, more so sixteen years ago it was when George and I met her for the first and only time on that lonely road by the sea.

I don't really know much about her. And all I remember is that rich half hour of walking, talking, shrieking and laughing along that darkening road. . . . George and I were soldiers, sloppy and careless, but happy, and we had taken leave for a day to walk to a little stone-walled town on the Brittany coast. We'd sat on the shore and watched the waves roll in to our feet and eaten lunch in a dirty little roadside inn and given hardly a thought to the war that was soon to engulf us—nor to all those millions of men up there on the mysterious "front" to the north of us.

And coming home, happily, we encountered this old witch. I call her "witch" because that's what she may have been. . . . She was trudging along with a sack on her back, and we hailed her as "grandmother" and took turns carrying the sack of shellfish that, strangely enough, she carried more easily than we did. . . . I think she wasn't exactly respectable. She made jokes in her patois that we didn't quite get, and suspected were hardly printable. She leered at a sailor who passed with his girl. . . . She shrieked like a gull, chattered like a parrot, laughed like a hyena, and whenever she saw us falter she praised us for grand, enterprising boys and flattered us into energy once more. . . . That old lady!

Thus on through the gathering darkness we went with that screaming old lady of the sea, until at last she stopped and fluttered off into an alleyway with her dirty, ragged skirts trailing behind her, screaming good night as she went. . . . And we found she had taken us many miles out of our way.

That's all. . . . Just an ignorant old fish-wife on a road in Brittany. . . . And I wonder why my memory, which has let slip so much else, still clings to her. . . . I wonder, but I think I do know. . . . I think it's because she was so completely alive, so vivid, so noisy, so curious, so eager, such a busy chuckling, waggle-tongue, chatterbox of a human being. . . . I remember her as one who Loved Life, and though we all think we love life, not many of us live as full as she. She clutched it with her skinny claws and hugged it to her old breast, and laughed for joy of being alive. . . . and who could never be forgetting an old lady like that?

Your Income Tax

No. 10 EXEMPTION ALLOWED HEAD OF A FAMILY

A head of a family is defined by income-tax regulations as "an individual who actually supports and maintains in one household one or more persons who are closely connected with him by blood relationship, relationship by marriage or by adoption, and whose right to exercise family control and provide for these dependent individuals is based upon some moral or legal obligation." The exemption allowed a head of a family is $2,500. The phrase "one household" may be interpreted as meaning the taxpayer's personal residence, an apartment, rooms in a boarding house, hotel, etc.

Under certain circumstances it is not necessary that the taxpayer and his dependents live under one roof during the entire taxable year in order that the taxpayer may claim the exemption. If the common home being maintained, the parent is away on business, or a child away at school or on a visit, the exemption is allowed. Moreover, if a parent is obliged to maintain his dependent children with relatives or in a boarding house, while he lives elsewhere, the exemption still applies. If, however, the dependent makes his home elsewhere, the benefactor is not the head of a family.

The same ruling applies to husband and wife "living together." If occasionally and temporarily the husband is away on business or the wife on a visit, the common home being maintained, the $2,500 exemption still applies. The unavoidable absence of husband or wife at a sanatorium does not preclude the exemption. But if the husband continuously makes his home at one place and the wife at another, they are not living together within the meaning of the revenue act.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

HOW ABOUT IT?

Following the reported death of Czar Alexander I of Russia in 1925 there were rumors that he was seen alive in various places. It was known that Alexander had talked of abdication. A Russian nobleman known as Feodor Kousmitch, living in a Cossack village where he gave all his time to caring for the sick, teaching children and showing peasants how to farm better, was believed to have been the former czar, trying to hide his identity. It is also known that the czarina visited Kousmitch before his death as an old man in 1884. These stories have persisted ever since. Several times orders were given to open Alexander's tomb to see if he really was buried but these orders never were carried out, always being rescinded. Recently, Soviet officials searching for jewels in the imperial tombs came upon Alexander's coffin and opened it. It was empty.

Meeting his friend on the street, he said: "Say, George, how about that life insurance of mine? Don't I get it?" "Well," said the agent, "you know, in our company it is the custom for

The World At A Glance

Our Foremost Critic
Europe Remains Skeptical
Liberal Party Revives

By LESLIE EICHEL

Central Press Staff Writer
NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—It will not be Oden Mills or Nicholas Murray Butler or Norman Thomas who will become the most devastating critic of the Roosevelt administration. It's not likely to be anybody in the United States. It probably will be no less than Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy. He already has pooh-poohed the "New Deal" in diplomatic language. Mussolini believes American idealism is a veil hiding the facts from eyes that do not desire to see.

None of the American theories seems to appeal to him.

SKEPTICAL
Europe remains skeptical of the Roosevelt moves.

One has only to read the headlines from Europe:

Berlin: "Germany fears change in dollar. Further alteration of gold content of American currency seen as possibility. More viewed as dubious. Relief persists in rich that 'wide return to gold standard is inevitable.'"

Paris: "Dollar's behavior a surprise in Paris. Its failure to establish theoretical market value puzzles Europeans. Fluctuation is marked. Management of United States exchange equalization fund is criticized by French."

Amsterdam: "Dutch doubt American return to gold standard; believe the dollar is strongly undervalued."

Says Berlin: It is expected if a depreciation of currency by 41 per cent remains fixed, the United States price will rise to the international price parity, and that the stock market will correspondingly advance. The majority of countries, however, after the termination of currency fluctuations, suffered a temporary stabilization crisis due to the discouragement of those enterprises that counted on a progressive currency depreciation for their profits."

PEACE?

The Liberal party in England is reviving with its old slogan: "Free trade!"

Proponents declare that nothing would go further toward lifting the depression and preventing wars.

Strong nationalistic tendencies, however, now are at a peak seldom, if ever, attained previously.

Each country seems to be making its citizenry war-conscious.

Nobody knows why there should be a war, why additional millions of men should be slaughtered, why civilization should be set back.

Each country strives to be the most militant.

The thinker is taunted as a coward. The blatant are in full power. Liberal parties are not likely to gain ascendancy. The fight is between greater extremes than conservatives and liberals. Their extremists are not strong enough.

DOOM?
Oswald Spengler, philosopher, sees all nations speeding toward doom because they will not face realities.

He views nations as groups of ferocious animals, whose natural tendencies are hatred and fights.

He pictures the Victorian age as a mere lull in these tendencies.

He visions no peace. Why? Because no man is strong enough to speak the truth.

He says: "Not a statesman, not a party, hardly even a political thinker is today in a safe enough position to speak the truth. They all lie, they all join in the chorus of the pampered, ignorant crowd who want their tomorrow to be like the good old days, only more so—although statesmen and economic leaders at least ought to be alive to the frightful reality. Only look at our leaders of today! Once a month their cowardly and dishonest optimism announces the 'upswing of the cycle' and 'prosperity', on the strength of a mere flutter on the stock exchange caused by building speculation; the end of unemployment, from the moment that a hundred men are given jobs, and as the climax the achievement of mutual understanding between the nations' as soon as the League—that swarm of parasitic holiday makers on the Lake of Geneva—has formulated any sort of resolution."

"And in every conference and every paper the word 'crisis' is banded about in connection with any passing disturbance of the peace. And thus we deceive ourselves, blind to the fact that we have here one of those incalculable great catastrophes that are the normal form in which history makes its major turns."

Those who are interested may read the whole amazing article, under the title "The Return of the Caesars" in The American Mercury for February. It is creating considerable comment.

NO TROOPS
Frances Perkins, secretary of labor, may go down in history.

Labor disputes of major proportions are being settled without the use of troops on a single occasion.

Under previous administrations there have been troops, bloodshed and long-continued paralysis.

Under Frances Perkins both industry and labor come together. So far that has saved the country tens of millions of dollars. And workers have attained new rights.

(Although workers of the Soviets still smile over the rights that American workers have not gained.)

THURSDAY, FEB. 8

Historic Anniversaries 1587—Mary Stuart, queen of Scots, aged 45, laid her head upon a block and lost it to satisfy Elizabeth, queen of England. She left behind some of most famous love letters. Excerpt from one to Earl of Bothwell, who became her third husband after he had murdered her second.

"Yes, I protest my dear Bothwell that for a humble life with you I gladly would exchange this load of greatness and throw it to those who seem ambitious for it, this gaudy burden of a crown. But even that is a privilege denied to me. I must either continue to reign or cease to live. Believe me, all the consolation your unhappy Queen enjoys is in hearing from you."

1791—Congress created Bank of United States, capital $10,000,000, at Philadelphia, to act for government in fiscal affairs. It paid an average dividend of 8 1/2 per cent, stabilized finances of nation, caused organization of scores of private banks. These banks, when it came time for the B. of U. S. to have its 30-year charter renewed, blocked the extension of its life on the ground that it was unconstitutional and that the government should stay out of business! They won, and by 1815 all but 2 or 3 banks in the country were broke!

1797—U. S. had a President and Vice President of different parties for first and last time. Electors voted this date, chose John Adams, President, Thomas Jefferson, Vice President. (Possibility of differing political faith from his President was ended by 12th Amendment, enacted in 1803.)

1910—Sons of Daniel Boone and Woodcraft Indians united as Boy Scouts of America, in emulation of boy scouts organized by Sir Robert Baden-Powell in South Africa and England.

Notables Born This Date—William Tecumseh Sherman, b. 1820, great federal general who DIDN'T say "war is hell." What he did say was: "If the people raise a howl against my barbarity and cruelty, I will answer that war is war, and not morality." d. 1891. Young Man Held For Fatal Blow Given To Mother

Corporal Brooks, State Policeman, Delving Into
Crawford County
Case

FATAL BLOW WAS STRUCK AT PARTY

(International News Service)
MEADVILLE, Pa., Feb. 8.—State police today opened a probe of the death of Mrs. Mary Richards, 50, divorced, following an autopsy that reportedly disclosed the woman died
of a fractured skull instead of alcoholism, as first believed.
John Richards, 28, son of the victim, and Bert Davenport, said to have been a guest at a party at Lincolnville, near Titusville, which Mrs.
Richards attended prior to her death, are held without charges pending an inquest. The inquest may be started today at Lincolnville.
Corporal James Brooks of the state police said that he had been told John Richards while trying to get his mother to go home knocked her to the floor. Police previously quoted Richards as saying there had been fighting at the Price home.
Verification of the alleged statements are being sought by investigators.

New Evidence Is Revealed Against Former Policeman

One Of Holdup Gang In
Youngstown Says Former Policeman Bixler Planned Jobs

(International News Service)
YOUNGSTOWN, O., Feb. 8.—The state planned to call additional witnesses today in the prosecution of former Patrolman Carl Bixler on charges of allegedly participating in the robbery of the Greenham Bakery Company.
Theodore Semihara, 21, one of three others indicted with Bixler in the Greenham case, was called to the witness stand for the second time
and testified in detail of the alleged holdups he had committed with a companion, now imprisoned, and said Bixler had figured in discussions of the "jobs."
Semihara also testified that a gun used in robbing a service station was furnished by the former officer after blame for the holdup had been talked over.

More than two hundred were in attendance Wednesday evening when the first meeting of the Bible Teacher's School, conducted by the four United Presbyterian churches
of the city, took place in the Second
United Presbyterian church.
An opening devotional period was led by J. Lee McFate, superintendent of the First church, after which the assembly broke into four groups for the courses of study.
Rev. D. L. Ferguson taught "The History of the Christian Church";
Dr. S. E. Irvine, "The Church in the Modern World"; Dr. C. K. Mc-
George, "How We Got Our Bible";
and Dr. S. B. Opeiland, "Methods of Teaching."
The course will continue each
Wednesday evening during February.

St. Andrews Men Will Meet Friday

Another fine meeting is scheduled for the St. Andrews Men's club Friday night at the church. The meeting in charge of President Tommy Evans and William Wignall will start at 8 o'clock. There are several interesting features to be unfolded at the Friday night session.
A prominent speaker has been obtained for the evening and it is expected that a full house of members be present to hear what this man has to say.

Best Remedy for Cough Is Easily Mixed at Home

No Cooking! No Work! Real Saving!

You'll never know how quickly
a stubborn cough can be conquered, until you try this famous recipe. It is used in more homes than any other cough remedy, because it gives more prompt positive relief. It's no trouble at all to mix and costs but a trifle.
Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces
of Pinex; then add granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. Syrup is easily made with 2 cups of sugar and one cup of water, stirred a few instants until dissolved. No cooking needed. This gives you four times as much cough medicine for your money,
and it's a purer, better remedy. It never spoils, and tastes fine.
Instantly you feel its penetrating effect. It loosens the gum-laden phlegm, clears the air passages, and soothes and heals the inflamed membranes. This threefold action explains why it brings such quick relief in every cough.
Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway Pine, used for generations for its healing effect on throat membranes. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Young Man Held For Fatal Blow Given To Mother

Corporal Brooks, State Policeman, Delving Into
Crawford County
Case

FATAL BLOW WAS STRUCK AT PARTY

(International News Service)
MEADVILLE, Pa., Feb. 8.—State
police today opened a probe of the death of Mrs. Mary Richards, 50, divorcee, following an autopsy that reportedly disclosed the woman died
of a fractured skull instead of alcoholism, as first believed.
John Richards, 28, son of the victim, and Bert Davenport, said to have been a guest at a party at Lincolnville, near Titusville, which Mrs.
Richards attended prior to her
death, are held without charges
pending an inquest. The inquest may be started today at Lincolnville.
Corporal James Brooks of the state police said that he had been told John Richards while trying to get his mother to go home knocked
her to the floor. Police previously quoted Richards as saying there had been fighting at the Price home.
Verification of the alleged statements are being sought by investigators.

One Of Holdup Gang In
Youngstown Says Former
Policeman Bixler Planned Jobs

(International News Service)
YOUNGSTOWN, O., Feb. 8.—The
state planned to call additional witnesses today in its prosecution of former Patrolman Carl Bixler on charges of allegedly participating in the robbery of the Grennan Bakery
Company.
Theodore Seminary, 21, one of three others indicted with Bixler in the Grennan case, was called to the witness stand for the second time
and testified in detail of the alleged holdups he had committed with a companion, now imprisoned, and
said Bixler had figured in discussions of the "jobs."
Seminary also testified that a gun used in robbing a service station was furnished by the former officer after plans for the holdup had been talked over.

Teacher's School, conducted by the four United Presbyterian churches
of the city, took place in the Second
United Presbyterian church.
An opening devotional period was led by J. Lee McFate, superintendent of the First church, after which the assemblage broke into four groups for the courses of study.
Rev. D. L. Ferguson taught "The History of the Christian Church";
Dr. S. E. Irvine, "The Church in the Modern World"; Dr. C. K. Mc-
George, "How We Got Our Bible";
and Dr. S. B. Copeland, "Methods
of Teaching."
The course will continue each

Best Remedy for Cough Is Easily Mixed at Home

No Cooking! No Work! Real Saving!

You'll never know how quickly stubborn cough can be conquered, until you try this famous recipe. It is used in more homes than any other cough remedy, because it gives more prompt, positive relief. It's no trouble
at all to mix and costs but a trifle.
Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces
of Pinex; then add granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. Syrup is easily made with 2 cups of sugar and one cup of water, stirred a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. This gives you four times as much cough medicine for your money,
and it's a purer, better remedy. It
never spoils, and tastes fine.
Instantly you feel its penetrating effect. It loosens the phlegm in the throat, clears the air passages, and soothes and heals the inflamed membranes. This three-fold action explains why it brings such quick relief in severe coughs.
Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway Pine, used for generations for its healing effect on throat
membranes. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

It is reported reliably in city hall circles that a playground will be made in the hollow between North Mercer and Blaine streets. The hollow was formerly known as the Wallace property and was purchased several years ago by the city.

One thousand and fifty trips were made by the three automobiles in the police department during January. They covered a total mileage of 3,152. The Buick operated 1,284, Ford 190 and Chevrolet 865. The one motorcycle in operation covered 615 miles.

Repairs have been made to one of the furnaces at the garbage incinerating plant, according to Howard Phillips, superintendent. The other furnace is now being repaired. Garbage is not very heavy at this time of year, he states.

AFFAIR IS HELD IN CATHEDRAL

Nearly 1,200 persons enjoyed the card party and dance Wednesday evening in The Cathedral, held for the benefit of the New Castle Hospital. The affair proved a success in every detail.

The main dining room of The Cathedral was jammed from 8:30 to 12:30 o'clock. Numerous tables of bridge, five hundred and euchre were in play. In another corner of the room, several hundred enjoyed playing "bingo."

Promptly at 9:00 o'clock, a popular orchestra added much zest to the affair, with its delightful music. The ballroom was crowded throughout the evening. Dancing was in vogue until 12:30 o'clock. During the course of the evening, the orchestra staged several clever musical acts which proved to the liking of the large audience.

One of the features of the evening's entertainment, was the cake walk. The fortunate person, who went home with the cake, was William Bowden.

Prizes were awarded during the evening to the following: J. D. O'Donnell, of 708 North Ashland avenue; Mary Boyle, of 204 West Grant avenue; Mrs. Thomas Morehead, of Ellwood City; Dr. J. P. Brice, of 36 North Jefferson street and Miss Florence Breuninger, of 1315 West Washington street.

The proceeds realized through this card party and dance will be given to the New Castle hospital. According to the committee in charge, close to $1,000 is expected to be turned over to the local institution. The success of the affair was due to the untiring efforts of the committee in charge, headed by Rev. Fr. Finis Stiffler, chaplain of the New Castle hospital.

Rev. Stiffler, through the columns of The News, thanks all the contributors. The New Castle News for its publicity, and all those who attended and helped to make the affair successful.

Mrs. Frank Reynolds, refreshment committee; Edward Davenport, reception committee; Mrs. Harry Stenger, dance committee.

Road supervisors Frank Smith and John Kennedy, of Shenango township are sounding out county commissioners and city council on a proposition of constructing a sanitary sewer from the county home to connect with the city sewer near Cascade Park. The sewer could be used by the county home, the municipal golf course, and Shenango township consolidated schools. Considerations with reference to sewage are far from satisfactory at the county home and the Shenango school.

It is claimed that the sewer could be constructed at a minimum of expense through the employment of CWA workmen. The only expense could be born by the county, Shenango township, and possibly the city. If it would not be considered that the city would be giving enough by permitting a connection with the city sewer system. The sewer could be constructed now at a much less cost than will likely be possible in the future. Charges could also be made for residence connections, which would help out materially. The project is one that could be considered as a permanent improvement, much more valuable than park work and other similar activities that are now being carried on, according to the supervisors.

Attorneys here are interested in a supreme court decision of far reaching importance with reference to rent claims. The supreme court holds that landlords cannot claim damages for loss of future rents in bankruptcy cases. The case is a direct outgrowth of the practice of big chain stores in entering bankruptcy proceedings during the past few years which made possible the cancellation of leases. Some companies with long term leases made in good time, found that they could not do business at a profit on account of the heavy rent overhead and took the bankruptcy route as a method of getting out from under the leases.

Former Sheriff Frank Johnston and family are now basking in Florida sunshine at Cocoa, Fla. County Commissioner P. O. Elder received a post card from Johnston today on the back of which was a picture of the new Mason county court house, an imposing looking structure recently completed by the county. Johnston says he is having a good time and is catching some big fish.

Wyle Brewster, agent for the Bureau of Animal Industry, in this district is going after persons who have failed to secure dog licenses. He has already made twenty-five citations, some of them in this city and some of them in country districts. Fifteen of them were made yesterday.

Mr. Brewster says that the records at the office of County Treasurer, William O. Pitts, shows that only about 3400 dogs licenses have been issued for 1934, whereas there are supposed to be around 6000 dogs in the county. In some instances people have delayed getting their dog licenses on account of a lack of funds, but there are hundreds of others, he says, who have merely been negligent.

Brewster says that he does not like to have to bring informations, but there does not seem to be any other way out. When the person accused of failing to secure a license, faces the justice or alderman, he has a fine and costs to pay, and must still take out a license for his dog.

County Commissioners say that from present indications they will be unable to set the 1934 tax levy by February 15th, on account of the failure of Ellwood City assessors to get in their tax books. Even if the books were delivered at once, it would be impossible to go over the figures by February 15th, and set the tax millage by that date. Commissioners figure that they ought to have at least a week or ten days to go over the tax books of the county.

In less than a week, February 14th, candidates may secure signatures to nominating petitions for national and state offices. Chief interest here will center in the candidates for congress. Several have signified their intention of running but so far have not made much noise about it.

Seek Right To Remove Cemetery

(Special To The News)
MERCER, Feb. 8.—City Solicitor James Little, of Greenville has filed a petition in court here asking permission to remove 150 bodies from the old United Presbyterian cemetery on High street and inter them in the Shenango Valley cemetery.

The removal is sought in order to extend Second street, a CWA project. The cemetery has not been used for more than fifty years. The ground is the property of the city, secured on a quit-claim deed from the original owners.

The ground was once owned by Westminster College, it is stated. They do say that heathen sandals will be more or less worn at the southern resorts this winter; and that numbers of them will appear next summer.

Nearly 1,200 persons enjoyed the card party and dance Wednesday evening in The Cathedral, held for the benefit of the New Castle Hospital. The affair proved a success in every detail.

The main dining room of The Cathedral was jammed from 8:30 to 12:30 o'clock. Numerous tables of bridge, five hundred and encore were in play. In another corner of the room, several hundred enjoyed playing "bingo."

Promptly at 9:00 o'clock, a popular orchestra added much zest to the affair, with its delightful music. The ballroom was crowded through-out the evening. Dancing was in vogue until 12:30 o'clock. During the course of the evening, the orchestra staged several clever musical acts which proved to the liking of the large audience.

One of the features of the evening's entertainment, was the cake walk. The fortunate person who went home with the cake, was William Bowden.

Prizes were awarded during the evening to the following: J. D. O'Donnell, of 708 North Ashland avenue; Mary Boyle, of 204 West Grant avenue; Mrs. Thomas Morehead, of Ellwood City; Dr. J. P. Brice, of 36 North Jefferson street; and Miss Flannell Brown, of 1315 West Washington street.

The proceeds realized through the card party and dance will be given to the New Castle hospital. According to the committee in charge, close to $1,000 is expected to be turned over to the local institution. The success of the affair was due to the untiring efforts of the committees in charge, headed by Rev. Fr. Francis Stiffler, chaplain of the New Castle hospital.

Rev. Stiffler, through the columns of The News, thanks all the committees, The New Castle News for its publicity, and all those who attended and helped to make the affair successful.

Those who were in charge of the different committees were:

Miss Margaret McGowan, bridge committee; Mrs. George "Giz," 1500 committee; Mrs. John Seger, encore committee; Albert Sritzing, bingo committee.

Mrs. Frank Reynolds, refreshment committee; Edward Davenport, reception committee; Mrs. Harry Slenger, dance committee.

Road supervisors Frank Smith and John Kennedy, of Shenango township are sounding out county commissioners and city council on a proposition of constructing a sanitary sewer from the county home to connect with the city sewer near Cascade Park. The sewer could be used by the county home, the municipal golf course, and Shenango township consolidated schools. Conditions with reference to sewage are far from satisfactory at the county home and the Shenango school.

It is claimed that the sewer could be constructed at a minimum of expense through the employment of CWA workmen. The only expense would be for the sewer pipe, and this could be born by the county, Shenango township, and possibly the city. It would not be considered that the city would be giving enough by permitting a connection with the city sewage system. The sewer could be constructed now at a much less cost than will likely be possible in the future. Charges could also be made for residence connections, which would help out materially.

The project is one that could be considered as a permanent improvement, much more valuable than park work and other similar activities that are now being carried on, according to the supervisors.

Attorneys here are interested in a supreme court decision of far reaching importance with reference to rent claims. The supreme court holds that landlords cannot claim damages for loss of future rents in bankruptcy cases. The case is a direct outgrowth of the practice of big chain stores in entering bankruptcy proceedings during the past few years which made possible the cancellation of leases. Some companies with long term leases made in good time, found that they could not do business at a profit on account of the heavy rent overhead and took the bankruptcy route as a method of getting out from under the leases.

Former Sheriff Frank Johnston and family are now basking in Florida sunshine at Cocoa, Fla. County Commissioner, P. O. Elder received a post card from Johnston to-day on the back of which was a picture of the new Macon county court house, an imposing looking structure recently completed by the county, which only has a population of 30,000. Johnston says he is having a good time and is catching some big fish.

Wylie Brewster, agent for the Bureau of Animal Industry, in this district is going after persons who have failed to secure dog licenses. He has already made twenty-five informations, some of them in this city and some of them in country districts. Fifteen of them were made yesterday.

Mr. Brewster says that the records at the office of County Treasurer, William C. Pitts shows that only about 3400 dogs licenses have been issued for 1934, whereas there are supposed to be around 6000 dogs in the county. In some instances people have delayed getting their dog licenses on account of a lack of funds, but there are hundreds of others, he says, who have merely been negligent.

Brewster says that he does not like to have to bring informations, but there does not seem to be any other way out. When the person accused of failing to secure a license, faces the justice or alderman, he has a fine and costs to pay, and must still take out a license for his dog.

County Commissioners say that from present indications they will be unable to set the 1934 tax levy by February 15th, on account of the failure of Ellwood City assessors to get in their tax books. Even if the books were delivered at once, it would be impossible to go over the figures by February 15th, and set the tax mileage by that date. Commissioners figure that they ought to have at least a week or ten days to go over the tax books of the county.

In less than a week, February 14th, candidates may secure signatures to nominating petitions for national and state offices. Chief interest here will center in the candidates for congress. Several have signified their intention of running but so far have not made much noise about it.

Seek Right To Remove Cemetery

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Feb. 8.—City Solicitor James Little, of Greenville has filed a petition in court here asking permission to remove 150 bodies from the old United Presbyterian cemetery on High street and inter them in the Shenango Valley cemetery.

The removal is sought in order to extend Second street, a CWA project.

The cemetery has not been used for more than fifty years. The ground is the property of the city, secured on a quit-claim deed from the original owners.

The ground was once owned by Westminster College, it is stated.

NEW VOTING LAW BECLOUDS POLL TAX

State Experts In Dispute On Issue

Question Whether New State Law Banishes Poll Tax In Counties

MAY ASK DECISION BY SUPREME COURT

By G. EVERETTE DOYING
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Feb. 8.—Abolition of the tax qualification for voting by the last legislature has left a legal riddle over the status of the poll tax, in the opinion of constitutional lawyers.

A supreme court decision apparently will be necessary to determine whether collection of the tax, known in some counties as an occupation or per capita tax, is legal now that voters no longer are required to show a tax receipt when they register or cast their ballots.

No judicial precedent exists in this state on the question because Pennsylvania has never permitted voting by citizens who did not assist in supporting the government.

Law Not Clear.
"The law does not clearly show that the tax cannot be collected," Attorney General William A. Schnader said today. Other opinions range from positive assurance that the constitutional amendment adopted last November does not affect the tax to equally positive statements that the assessment has been nullified.

The only change made by the amendment was to eliminate the section of article eight providing that to vote all citizens must show a tax receipt not more than two years old.

The question that arises is whether the poll tax is for revenue-raising purposes or to make it possible for persons not otherwise taxable to meet the tax qualification.

If the tax is determined to be a revenue-raiser its legality becomes questionable and would hinge upon a judicial opinion on the intent of the amendment, it is believed.

Needs Decision.
If the court was to determine that it was a tax to permit all citizens to vote, the consensus of opinion is that it would be declared illegal because there no longer is a tax qualification for voting.

Many counties, according to information here, have decided not to attempt to collect the poll tax this year or in the future. This fact also may figure in any court action because the constitution requires that all taxes levied must be uniform.

Legal minds pointed out that the simplest way of determining the answer to the problem would be for some county to ask the supreme court for a declaratory judgment under the act of 1923 which permits governmental agencies to ask the high tribunal to rule on a question without instituting formal suit.

Ickes Presents New Plan For Re-Payment Of Court House Grant Made County
Some changes in the plan originally proposed by the government in providing financing for public improvements are contained in a letter received by the county commissioners from Public Works Administrator Harold Ickes. These changes were discussed yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the county commissioners, Judge R. L. Hildebrand, Commissioners, Attorney John P. Lockhart, and County Controller R. C. McCaslin.
The original amount of the loan asked and granted for a new court house here was $768,000. Approximate grant from the government, $215,000, the difference of $553,000 between the loan and the grant, in order not to increase the millage for the building of the court house, it was planned to use a schedule set forth in a booklet sent out by the administration whereby the "grant" would take care of the payments and interest for the first four years, until the bonded indebtedness here had been reduced to such an extent that the payments on the court house project would not cause an increase.
In using this plan the payments would not come from taxation until the fifth year, but the interest of 4 per cent, would be computed on the $768,000 from the start. This plan, developed by the administration is now rejected and in its place the following is offered.
From the grant of approximately $215,000 the government will retain one-sixth, or approximately $36,000, which it adds to the difference of $553,000, between the loan and the grant for $589,000 which becomes the face of the loan but on which the interest will start as soon as the bonds are given in exchange for the money. This would mean that the interest then due at the end of the first year, and successive years, along with retirement of bonds if any, during the first four years, would have to reflect itself in the tax millage of the county.
In the first plan, which is rejected, the county paid interest on the grant and used the grant for reduction of principal and to pay the interest for the first four years. In the new plan, which is now advanced by Administrator Ickes the county pays the interest on only one-sixth of the grant along with the $553,000, or the difference between the loan asked and the approximate amount of the entire grant, and five-sixths of the grant is given outright, but the payment of interest and reduction of principal, if any, during the first four years.

Start Work On Junior High
Work has been started by CWA employees on the painting of rooms in the Benjamin Franklin Junior High School and the roofing of the building. The roofing on the building has been in bad shape for a number of years and with the labor furnished by the CWA the school years would have to be paid by taxation.
No action on the new proposition submitted has been taken by the county officials. It will be given further consideration, and it may be that a representative will be sent to Washington in an effort to secure the adoption of the first plan.

TWO ALARMS ARE ANSWERED; NO FIRES
City firemen answered two alarms last evening and this morning, no damage resulting in either case.
Box 49, at Long avenue and Williams street was pulled at 9:20 last evening, but firemen were unable to find any fire on answering.
At 8:10 this morning, they were called to 1602 Hamilton street, to the home of Frank Kirker. Spark burning out in the chimney caused a chimney hole cover to become hot. There was no loss.
SKIDDING CAUSES MISHAP
J. C. Metzger reported to city police that his auto skidded yesterday when he turned his car from South Mill street into East Home street. It struck a car carrying Pennsylvania license 88-093.
Power is more safely retained by cautious than by severe councils.—Tacitus.

Flashes From Our
Night Schools

By JOHN G. RUBEIS, Supervisor
Once again, the aging halls of North Street school hear the stamping tread of an adult student body as, night after night, grownup men and women take the seats occupied during the day by their younger brothers and sisters, and in some cases, children.

The mounting enrollment of this Emergency Educational Relief night school has passed the 300 mark and as the citizenry of New Castle realizes the full significance and scope of the North street project, more than 400 students are expected to be enrolled.

To Dr. C. C. Green goes the everlasting credit for this fine institution, for it was he, who as local chairman for the E. E. R. gave the institution his support to the night program.

Three Student Types

Three types of students are in the majority at North Street.

There are the stenographers and clerks, busy at brushing up on their shorthand, bookkeeping and typewriting. The classes of Miss Mary James and G. W. Hayes, dealing with business subjects, are crowded.

Mrs. McClain's classes are crowded with adults who are interested in the art of letter writing, penmanship and English as it should be spoken.

The classes of Mr. Crenney and Mr. O'Neill appeal more to the college graduate, as these instructors are offering courses in government, psychology, economics, contemporary literature, law and English.

Then there are classes in dramatics, voice, public speaking, scenario and playwriting, which bring together students from all walks of life. Mr. Wylie and Mrs. Stanley are the instructors.

Dr. Green wishes it more thoroughly understood that all the classes at North street are free of charge.

Mr. Hayes has received twenty copies of bookkeeping texts and has sent for twenty cost accounting sets. Mrs. Ethel McClain desires to have all English grammar text books returned as soon as possible. New books are being used in her classes.

To Hear Lectures

Mrs. S. D. Pearson will deliver a lecture on "The Little Theatre" to the dramatics group Friday evening at 7:30 in the North street auditorium. This lecture is open to all who care to attend.

Another attraction for the night school students on Friday evening is a lecture by Attorney Gilbert Long on "Police Powers of the State." Mr. Crenney's classes in economics and government have been invited especially in addition to the public. The lecture is at 8:15.

Mrs. Ethel McClain offers arithmetic and English at 4:30 instead of hygiene, as formerly scheduled at this hour. The change has met with approval and many are enrolling for this class.

Mr. O'Neill is reviewing Gibb's "The Cross of Peace" during the six o'clock literature hour. He will discuss Willa Cather's "The Song of the Lark" in the near future.

Mr. Stanley's class in scenario and playwriting will swing into action Thursday at 6:30. Mr. Stanley hopes that an original play by some of New Castle's unknown writers may be an actuality. If a play is found suitable Mr. Wylie's dramatic class will produce it at a later date.

Mr. Hayes reports an attendance of 44 in his bookkeeping class, while the finance class is also well attended. The Men's Bible Class of Trinity Episcopal church has invited the dramatic class to the production of "The Torch Bearer" and the entire group of 50 will meet at North street at 7:30 to attend the play in a body.

Miss James would like to hear from anyone in New Castle who has a typewriter for rent. Many young men and women would like to have training along this line but cannot have the opportunity because of a lack of typewriters. Those who can furnish the same are requested to get in touch with Dr. Green at the Administration Building as soon as possible.

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 8.—Lawrence Clark, 25, Western penitentiary inmate, was acquitted by a jury in criminal court here today of fatally stabbing Wayne C. Cobb, a fellow convict, last September 19.

The verdict not only freed Clark of a murder charge but, according to his counsel, paved the way for an application for parole.

Clark's minimum sentence of from 5 to 10 years for burglary expires Feb. 16.

I. A. Melnick, his attorney, said he would seek a parole for Clark immediately.

Clark, a former Youngstown resident, was cleared by the jury after only four hours' deliberation. The verdict, sealed, was reached last night, and opened when court reconvened today.

Brewster Shoots
Last Coyote In Washington Co.

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Pa., Feb. 8.—Wyllie Brewster, Lawrence county's game protector, had the distinction of being the slayer of Washington county's last coyote.

Brewster shot and killed the animal in Hanover, near the Beaver county line. It was the largest of five animals believed to have made up the pack that for several months has preyed on sheep and small game.

Although they are confident the pack has been wiped out, state agents said the search will be continued for a few more days to assure the coyotes are no more.

First to modernize the heathen so they will buy our products; then we howl because they imitate the products and undersell us.

Alas! When you sit and wait for something to turn up, nothing does but the world's nose.

Flashes From Our
Night SchoolsBy JOHN G. RUBINIS, Supervisor

Once again, the aging halls of North Street school hear the stamping tread of an adult student body as, night after night, grownup men and women take the seats occupied during the day by their younger brothers and sisters, and in some cases, children.

The mounting enrollment of this Emergency Educational Relief night school has passed the 300 mark and as the citizenry of New Castle realizes the full significance and scope of the North street project, more than 400 students are expected to be enrolled.

To Dr. C. G. Green goes the everlasting credit for this fine institution, for it was he, who as local chairman for the E. E. R. gave the institution his support to the night program.

Three Student Types

Three types of students are in the majority at North Street. There are the stenographers and clerks, busy at brushing up on their shorthand, bookkeeping and typewriting. The classes of Miss Mary James and G. W. Hayes, dealing with business subjects, are crowded. Mrs. McClain's classes are crowded with adults who are interested in the art of letter writing, penmanship and English as it should be spoken.

The classes of Mr. Crenney and Mr. O'Neill appeal more to the college graduate, as these instructors are offering courses in government, psychology, economics, contemporary literature, law and English.

Then there are classes in dramatics, voice, public speaking, scenery and playwriting, which bring together students from all walks of life. Mr. Wylie and Mrs. Stanley are the instructors.

Dr. Green wishes it more thoroughly understood that all the classes at North street are free of charge.

Mr. Hayes has received twenty copies of bookkeeping texts and has sent for twenty cost accounting sets.

Mrs. Ethel McClain desires to have all English grammar text books returned as soon as possible. New books are being used in her classes.

To Hear Lectures

Mrs. S. D. Pearson will deliver a lecture on "The Little Theatre" to the dramatics group Friday evening at 7:30 in the North street auditorium. This lecture is open to all who care to attend.

Another attraction for the night school students on Friday evening is a lecture by Attorney Gilbert Long on "Police Powers of the State." Mr. Crenney's classes in economics and government have been invited especially in addition to the public.

The lecture is at 8:15.

Mrs. Ethel McClain offers arithmetic and English at 4:30 instead of hygiene, as formerly scheduled at this hour. The change has met with approval and many are enrolling for this class.

Mr. O'Neill is reviewing Gibb's "The Cross of Peace" during the six o'clock literature hour. He will discuss Willa Cather's "The Song of the Lark" in the near future.

Mr. Stanley's class in scenario and playwriting will swing into action Thursday at 6:30. Mr. Stanley hopes that an original play by some of New Castle's unknown writers may be an actuality. If a play is found suitable Mr. Wylie's dramatic class will produce it at a later date.

Mr. Hayes reports an attendance of 44 in his bookkeeping class, while the finance class is also well attended. The Men's Bible Class of Trinity Episcopal church has invited the dramatic class to the production of "The Torch Bearer" and the entire group of 50 will meet at North street at 7:30 to attend the play in a body.

Miss James would like to hear from anyone in New Castle who has a typewriter for rent. Many young men and women would like to have training along this line but cannot have the opportunity because of a lack of typewriters. Those who can furnish the same are requested to get in touch with Dr. Green at the Administration Building as soon as possible.

Brewster Shoots
Last Coyote In
Washington Co.

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Pa., Feb. 8.—Wyllie Brewster, Lawrence county's game protector, had the distinction of being the slayer of Washington county's last coyote.

Brewster shot and killed the animal in Hanover, near the Beaver county line. It was the largest of five animals believed to have made up the pack that for several months has preyed on sheep and small game. Although they are confident the pack has been wiped out, state agents said the search will be continued for a few more days to assure the coyotes are no more.

Massanutten Defeats New Castle 34 To 32

Last Minute Spurt Wins For Visitors

Military Boys Put On Finish Act That Bewilders New Castle High Tossers

Reiber And Hale Divide Scoring Honors In Fast Game Last Night

New Castle High School basketball team knows what it is to lose. Last night at George Washington Junior High gym, the Massanutten Military Academy quintet of Woodstock, Virginia, put on a last minute finish act that carried knockout sleep with it. The final score favored the Virginians 34 to 32 in a fast and furious battle. Captain Lester "Bus" Reiber and Nathan Hale carried off scoring honors, being followed closely by Walter Komine.

Massanutten Comes Through It looked for a time like a New Castle High victory with the locals leading 29 to 26 with only two minutes left to play and then the first works commenced with a result that Massanutten piled up points faster than it takes lightning to strike and before long the complexion of the game changed and New Castle was on the short end. Nathan Hale was the big gun in the attack of the invaders getting five field goals in the second half of the game. Massanutten played mediocre basketball in the first two periods, only to snap out of the coma in the final periods with a fast and accurate shooting attack that had the New Castle boys running around in circles. It was a fine game.

The score favored the New Castle team 10 to 8 at the end of the first period. Reiber, Komine and Ostrosky piled in the points for New Castle. Hale and Henry scored for the Massanutten team.

New Castle Leads At Half At the end of the first half the score favored New Castle 17 to 6. Kelly, Miles and Ostrosky scored for New Castle in this period, with Henry, Atchison, and Brindle doing the scoring. Massanutten did not look any too impressive in the second stanza.

The Massanutten team started off better in the third period. The visitors soon made themselves known by running the score to 25 to 20 in favor of New Castle at the end of the third period. Massanutten outscored New Castle 12 to 3 in the period, with Reiber, Kelly and Komine doing the scoring for New Castle and with Hale, Fabricant, Fawcett a sub for Henry, and Kady doing the scoring.

Visitors Step Out In the fourth and final period the New Castle High team held the lead right up until the final two minutes of play, but it was evident that the Massanutten team was finding the range of the basket and that they were going to make it interesting for the Bridenbaughmen. They did, with a bang, and then some. Hale handled the ball well and scored three times with fine shots. Fabricant came through with two nice field goals and Henry and Fawcett scored one apiece. The visitors held the lead quicker than you can say Jack Robinson. The New Castle team became desperate in the final few minutes and although Captain Reiber played his heart out, it was to no avail. With the count 34 to 31 in favor of the visitors in the final 35 seconds of play Reiber was fouled and made good one of his shots for a point. There was hardly time for another lineup before the game ended.

Reiber was high man with 13 points, followed by Hale with 12 points and Komine with 10 points. Fabricant had 8 points. These boys were outstanding. Kelly and Ostrosky played fine floor games. The next home game for the New Castle High team will be on Friday night when New Brighton High will play here.

New Castle Reserves Lose It was a bad night for New Castle High all the way around. The New Castle High Reserves lost the preliminary game to the fast Germans 35 to 21 in a well played game. The score at the half favored the New Castle High Reserves 14 to 10 but the playing of Russell, Battley and Johnnie Teplica, former New Castle High stars in the final half, was too much for the Reserves.

It was the first defeat for the Reserves in two years of playing. Teplica led the scoring with 12 points, while Battley had six points, and Whitman had four points. The best bet in the New Castle Reserves lineup were Pratt with six points and Nahas with eight points. Mumford and Tuscano also played fine basketball.

Racing Bill in New York State

New York Legislature Will Pass Legalized Racing Bill By March 1, Is Reported

By DAVID J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Under cover of a spurious air of innocence, wholly out of keeping with the seething nature of a great politico-Park avenue feud, a racing bill, legalizing "open betting" in the noble state of New York, will be chivvied through the legislature at Albany by March 1.

The writer is able to make this statement on authority that is quite without question today, granting, at the same time, that forces inimical to the proposed measure are prepared to swing the machinery of a once-powerful institution into the fight. But, they tell me, this movement is ordained to fail. When the time comes, it will be strictly no contest; they say the governor himself will act, if necessary.

However, the laws says you cannot dislike a man for trying and the records of Tammany hall prove it will never be ruled off for that. Only yesterday one of its head men was inspired to tell a gullester reporter that he felt that the great need of the state was a racing commission, to be appointed by a disinterested and unbiased person, meaning himself. But, although he probably doesn't know it, this may be his last arresting utterance on the subject. There will be no oratory in connection with the project this time.

Managers Of Teams To Submit Requests Friday At The News

NECESSARY TO SECURE LEASES

Managers of baseball teams in the city who wish to have fields improved by the city recreation board and the CWA will meet with Ed Fritz, sports editor of The News, at 7:30 p. m. Friday. The meeting at The News will be held because members of the recreation board and CWA representatives will view the proposed sites early Saturday morning.

Each spring it has been the policy of the streets department to improve the diamonds and owing to a lack of city funds this year it is believed extensive improvements will not be possible.

As a result the city recreation board and CWA heads here were requested to make the improvements. This will permit men to be employed and at the same time provide excellent baseball fields.

It is the desire of the baseball men that a good field be located in each ward and when this proposition was put forward by Fritz to Director of Park Joe Alexander and Assistant Administrator of the CWA Matthew Gunton, they approved it.

At the meeting of the recreation board and CWA, which was attended by legal representatives of both parties, a point was brought out that may have some effect on the improvements.

It was first believed that should the property owner give to the recreation board a lease for one year, the CWA could make the improvement.

Must Secure Lease. When the legal representatives of both parties met at the CWA Thursday night they pointed out of 2,000 gallons and 2,000 gallons of fresh water is turned in. Every day hot water is being placed in the pool and water is taken out. In this way the pool water is changed completely in a short period of time.

The physical director further called attention to the fact that soda ash and a sodium hypochlorite solution is being poured in constantly in coordination with the filter action. As the water comes back after being filled the chlorine solution is added to it in such strength as to cause the water here to measure up better than the state health department's health ratio for pools.

Sides of the pool are brushed each day to maintain absolute cleanliness. A hose inspection goes over the pool every three months.

Pennsylvania R. R. Group Are Hosts At Semi-Monthly Golf League Party

With a representative group in attendance, the semi-monthly golf league party was held at the Municipal clubhouse last evening. Walter DeArment and Ora Ischler and their Pennsylvanians providing the entertainment.

An interesting program was rendered, with songs and instrumental numbers being furnished by Frank Delillo and the Copple brothers. R. B. Proctor, Howard Proctor, R. D. Black, "Shorty" Hare, and "Lefty" Parks provided old-fashioned fiddle and banjo music, with Black doing a little fancy strutting and some novelty harmonica numbers, while F. E. "Lefty" Parks, wreckmaster, showed how the oldtime hoe-down was done.

There were door prizes provided, and the balance of the evening following the entertainment was spent in cards by the group. Refreshments were also served.

The hosts for the next party and the date will be announced later by the committee.

BABE RUTH GOES SOUTH TO FLORIDA

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Accompanied by his wife, Babe Ruth was scheduled to leave New York for St. Petersburg, Fla., this morning, leaving quite definitely behind him his fortieth birthday and the attack of influenza which laid him low for a fortnight.

The Babe declared he hoped he would find plenty of sunshine in the south. "I'll need it," he said, wryly.

Plan To Improve Baseball Fields

Eric Biddle, state administrator, would not approve work on the projects unless there is a five years lease.

It was said by the CWA officials that if they send men to do the work the improvements will be extensive. In other words, the diamond and the outfield will be put in splendid playing condition.

Therefore it is obvious to all managers that they must interview the owners of the ground at once. They can be paid a consideration of $1 for the lease. The sites will be used for no other than recreation purposes.

Unless this is done the CWA cannot legally do the work. All the managers of senior teams in the city should bring all information Friday night so it can be submitted to the officials early Saturday morning.

The recreation board and the CWA are ready to cooperate with the baseball players of the city and the plots to be improved in all sections will be decided upon when the view is held Saturday.

It is desired that at least one regulation sized field be found in each ward.

Y Pool, Continually In Use Ranks High For Cleanliness

New Castle's Y. M. C. A. swimming pool undergoes rigid inspections daily to maintain the purity of the water, according to Physical Director Henry T. MacNicholas.

Because most people, particularly those on the outside, are unfamiliar with the restrictions that must be abided in conducting an indoor pool, little is known of the intricate operations that are necessary for the protection of the public which patronizes it.

Every Precaution Taken. "First, the pool must be continually filtered through two sand and gravel tanks," MacNicholas pointed out. "This operation is repeated constantly as long as the pool is being used from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. Since the Y pool holds 65,000 gallons of water this must be pumped from the pool into the filters and then back into the pool. Every Sunday the pool is drained

NEW BRIGHTON TO PLAY HERE FRIDAY

New Brighton High Will Play At Washington Gym Friday

Reserves To Play Preliminary; Best Game Of Season Is Predicted

New Castle High school basketball team will not get much rest before the New Brighton High battle here Friday night, and if the game played at New Brighton earlier in the year is any criterion, the New Castle team is in for a large evening. Washington High gym should be packed to the roof for the Section Three battle that is to be unfolded. New Brighton High Reserves and New Castle High Reserves will play the preliminary game at 7:15.

On the New Brighton High floor in the opening game of the Section Three race for New Castle, the locals won out in the final second of play when Archie "Merriwell" Ridley dropped in that foul try. The final score was 29 to 28. New Brighton looms as the only threat to the Bridenbaughmen this year. If New Castle wins Friday night, the old title will be sewed up in the bag for another season.

New Brighton Intact New Brighton High didn't lose a man by graduation or semester ruling, and will present the same team that faced the New Castle team in the valley. New Castle on the other hand will be minus Ridley and Battley, two clever forwards.

With the tough battle with Massanutten Academy listed for last night the wearers of the red and black are going to be rather tired for the game Friday.

Coach Bridenbaugh will probably stick to the starting lineup of Captain Reiber and Hitchens at the forwards, Kelly at center and Komine and Ostrosky at the guards.

New Brighton will have Fields, Vukich or Bingham at forwards; with Keppen at center and Capo and Moiter at the guards.

Need Victory Since defeating New Brighton on January 12th, the New Castle team has defeated every other team on the Section Three list, including Beaver Falls, Butler and Ellwood City.

The rest of the schedule favors New Castle, with three of the toughest opponents to be met at New Castle, New Brighton, Beaver Falls and Butler. Ellwood City will be met at Ellwood later in the month.

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner is looking forward to the biggest crowd of the year for the New Brighton game. The price will remain the same at 15, 25 and 35.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Although Carl Snively resigned three weeks ago to go to North Carolina, a successor will not be appointed before February 17, according to Dr. B. W. Griffith, graduate manager at Bucknell. Among those reported to be seeking the job is Harold (Red) Grange.

Jimmy Fox said at Miami last night he would return to the Athletics a contract offered him for 1934. He said the price offered is 25 per cent lower than what he got in 1933. Fox is the homerun king of last season.

Penn State boxers outclassed Bucknell's team last night at State College. The only defeat Penn State suffered was in the 175-pound class when Pethick, Bucknell, scored a technical knockout over Kessler in the second round.

Massanutten Defeats New Castle 34 To 32

Last Minute Spurt Wins For Visitors

Military Boys Put On Finish Act That Bewilders New Castle High Tossers

Reiber And Hale Divide Scoring Honors In Fast Game Last Night

New Castle High school basketball team knows what it is to lose. Last night at George Washington Junior High gym the Massanutten Military Academy quintet of Woodstock, Virginia, put on a last minute finish act that carried knockout sleep with it. The final score favored the Virginians 34 to 32 in a fast and furious battle.

Massanutten Comes Through It looked for a time like a New Castle victory with the locals leading 20 to 16 with only two minutes left to play and then the fireworks commenced with a result that Massanutten piled up points faster than it takes lightning to strike and before long the complexion of the game changed and New Castle was on the short end. Nathan Hale was the big gun in the attack of the invaders getting five field goals in the second half of the game. Massanutten played mediocre basketball in the first two periods, only to snap out of the coma in the final periods with a fast and accurate shooting attack that had the New Castle back running around in circles. It was a fine game.

The score favored the New Castle team 10 to 3 at the end of the first period. Reiber, Komline and Ostrosky piled in the points for New Castle. Hale and Henry scored for the Massanutten team.

New Castle Leads At Half At the end of the first half the score favored New Castle 17 to 8. Kelly, Miles and Ostrosky scored for New Castle in this period, with Henry, Atchison, and Brindle doing the scoring. Massanutten did not look very impressive in the second stanza.

The Massanutten team started off better in the third period. The visitors soon made themselves known by running the score to 25 to 20 in favor of New Castle at the end of the third period. Massanutten outscored New Castle 12 to 3 in the period, with Reiber, Kelly and Komline doing the scoring for New Castle and with Hale, Fabricant, Fawcett a sub for Henry, and Kady doing the scoring.

Victors Step Out In the fourth and final period the New Castle High team held the lead right up until the final two minutes of play, but it was evident that the Massanutten team was finding the range of the basket and that they were going to make it interesting for the Bridenbaughs. They did, with a bang, and then some. Hale handled the ball well and scored three times with fine shots, Fabricant came through with two nice field goals and Henry and Fawcett scored one apiece. The visitors held the lead quicker than you can say Jack Robinson. The New Castle team became desperate in the final few minutes and although Captain Reiber played his heart out, it was to no avail. With the count 34 to 31 in favor of the visitors in the final 35 seconds of play Reiber was fouled and made good one of his shots for a point. There was hardly time for another lineup before the game ended.

Reiber was high man with 13 points, followed by Hale with 12 points and Komline with 10 points. Fabricant had 8 points. The visitors were outstanding. Kelly and Ostrosky played fine floor games. The next home game for the New Castle High team will be on Friday night when New Brighton High will play here.

New Castle Reserves Lose It was a bad night for New Castle High all the way around. The New Castle High Reserves lost the preliminary game to the fast German 25 to 21 in a well played game. The score at the half favored the New Castle High Reserves 14 to 10 but the playing of Russell, Battley and Johnnie Teplica, former New Castle High stars in the final half, was too much for the Reserves.

It was the first defeat for the Reserves in two years of playing. Teplica led the scoring with 12 points, while Battley had six points, and Whitman had four points. The best bet in the New Castle Reserves lineup were Pratt with six points and Kady with eight points. McLeod and Tusciano also played fine basketball.

The summary: New Castle—Pg. F. T. P. Reiber, f. 12 8 32 Kelly, f. 10 0 0 Atchison, f. 10 0 0 Komline, g. 10 0 0 Ostrosky, g. 10 0 0 Nigro, g. 10 0 0 Totals 52 0 32 Massanutten—Pg. F. T. P. Racing Bill in New York State

New York Legislature Will Pass Legalized Racing Bill By March 1, Is Reported

By DAVIS J. WALSH International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Under cover of a spurious air of innocence, wholly out of keeping with the seething nature of a great politico-Park avenue feud, a racing bill, legalizing "open betting" in the noble state of New York, will be introduced through the legislature at Albany by March 1.

The writer is able to make this statement on authority that is quite without question today, granting, at the same time, that forces inimical to the proposed measure are prepared to swing the machinery of a once-powerful institution into the fight. But they tell me this movement is ordained to fail. When the time comes, it will be strictly no contest; they say the governor himself will act, if necessary.

However, the laws say you cannot dislike a man for trying and the records of Tammany hall prove it will never be ruled off for that. Only yesterday one of its head men was inspired to tell a gulleless reporter that he felt that the great need of the state was a racing commission, to be appointed by a disinterested and unbiased body, meaning himself. But, although he probably doesn't know it, this may be his last arresting utterance on the subject. There will be no oratory in connection with the project this time.

Managers Of Teams To Submit Requests Friday At The News

NECESSARY TO SECURE LEASES Managers of baseball teams in the city who wish to have fields improved by the city recreation board and the CWA will meet with Ed Fritz, sports editor of The News, at 7:30 p. m. Friday. The meeting at The News will be held because members of the recreation board and CWA representatives will view the proposed sites early Saturday morning.

Each spring it has been the policy of the streets department to improve the diamonds but owing to a lack of city funds this year it is believed extensive improvements will not be possible.

As a result the city recreation board and CWA heads here were requested to make the improvements. This will permit men to be employed and at the same time provide excellent baseball fields.

It is the desire of the baseball men that a good field be located in each ward and when this proposition was put forward by Fritz to Director of Park Joe Alexander and Assistant Administrator of the CWA, Matthew Guntin, they approved it.

At the meeting of the recreation board and CWA, which was attended by legal representatives of both bodies, a point was brought out that may have some effect on the improvements.

It was first believed that should the property owner give to the recreation board a lease for one year, the CWA could make the improvement.

Must Secure Lease. When the legal representatives explained the machinery of the CWA Thursday night they pointed out that the property owner must give to the recreation board a lease for one year, the CWA could make the improvement.

BABE RUTH GOES SOUTH TO FLORIDA (International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Accompanied by his wife, Babe Ruth was scheduled to leave New York for St. Petersburg, Fla., this morning, leaving quite definitely behind him his fourth birthday and the attack of influenza which laid him low for a fortnight.

The Babe declared he hoped he would find plenty of sunshine in the south. "I'll need it," he said, wryly.

Plan To Improve Baseball Fields Eric Biddle, state administrator, would not approve work on the projects unless there is a five years lease.

It was said by the CWA officials that if they send men to do the work the improvements will be extensive. In other words, the diamond and the outfield will be put in splendid playing condition.

Therefore it is obvious to all managers that they must interview the owners of the ground at once. They can be paid a consideration of $1 for the lease. The sites will be used for no other than recreation purposes.

Unless this is done the CWA cannot legally do the work. All the managers of senior teams in the city should bring all information Friday night so it can be submitted to the officials early Saturday morning.

The recreation board and the CWA are ready to cooperate with the baseball players of the city and the plots to be improved in all sections will be decided upon when the view is held Saturday.

It is desired that at least one regulation sized field be found in each ward.

Mahoning To Play St. Johns Highland U. P. will play the First Baptist, Weymouth, E. will oppose the Finnish Lutherans and Mahoning Presbyterians will play St. Johns in the Church Basketball league games at the Y. M. C. A., tonight.

NEW BRIGHTON TO PLAY HERE FRIDAY

New Brighton High Will Play At Washington Gym Friday

Reserves To Play Preliminary; Best Game Of Season Is Predicted

New Castle High school basketball team will not get much rest before the New Brighton High battle here Friday night, and if the game played at New Brighton earlier in the year is any criterion, the New Castle team is in for a large evening. Washington High gym should be packed to the roof for the Section Three battle that is to be unfolded. New Brighton High Reserves and New Castle High Reserves will play the preliminary game at 7:15.

On the New Brighton High floor in the opening game of the Section Three case for New Castle, the locals won out in the final second of play when Archie "Merriwell" Ridley dropped in that foul try. The final score was 29 to 28. New Brighton looms as the only threat to the Bridenbaughs this year. If New Castle wins Friday night, the old tie will be sewed up in the bag for another season.

New Brighton intact New Brighton High didn't lose a man by graduation or semester ruling, and will present the same team that faced the New Castle team in the valley. New Castle on the other hand will be minus Ridley and Battley, two clever forwards.

With the tough battle with Massanutten Academy listed for last night the weariness of the met, and the players are going to be rather tired for the game Friday.

Coach Bridenbaugh will probably stick to the starting lineup of Captain Reiber and Hitchens at the forwards, Kelly at center and Komline and Ostrosky at the guards.

New Brighton will have Fields, Yulrich or Bingham at forwards; with Keppen at center and Capo and Molter at the guards.

Need Victory Since defeating New Brighton on January 12th, the New Castle team has defeated every other team on the Section Three list, including Beaver Falls, Butler and Ellwood City.

The rest of the schedule favors New Castle, with three of the toughest opponents to be met at New Castle: New Brighton, Beaver Falls and Butler. Ellwood City will be met at Ellwood later in the month.

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner is looking forward to the biggest crowd of the year for the New Brighton game. The prices will remain the same at 15, 25 and 35.

New Wilmington High School basketball teams will battle the Enon High girls and boys on Friday night at the Enon High floor. It was announced today. The New Wilmington team is hard at practice for the battle.

Coach Eagleson is not well pleased with the showing of his team against Union, and may switch the lineup somewhat this week. The starting lineup will be Eagleson, Clark, Axe, Ferris and Borowitz.

Second U. P. Five Would Like Games Second U. P. church basketball team would like to arrange games with all fast junior teams in the city and county on a home and home basis. The following teams are preferred: Union High Reserves, Shonango Reserves, Catholics Bessemer Indies, Franklin High, and any others. Just how strong the Tin City Rovers basketball team really is, will be tested here next Monday night at Senior high floor, when the famous Willigs, of McKeesport will be the attraction. Business Manager Raymond "Mickey" McBride made a decided hit when he scheduled this nationally known quintet.

It will be New Castle's second big basketball game, since the Tin City Rovers having played the Babe Didrikson team here earlier in the year. The Willigs will have all former college and high stars in the lineup. The Willigs are perhaps one of the strongest semi-pro teams in the country.

The victory of the Willigs over the Tulsa Oils, with Charley Hyatt playing, gave the Willigs national recognition. If the Tin

THE utility shops were a notable weak spot. American Water Works, Columbia Gas, and North American, were sold heavily for losses running to nearly 2 points each.

Prime industrial stocks including United States Steel, American Can and others of similar calibre were weak and down moderately.

American Telephone was a notable weak spot opening on volume for a loss of nearly two points which was quickly extended.

General Motors and Chrysler received a fair amount of support on the downside and held their losses to small fractions.

New York Central and other carrier shares were sold along with the rest of the list and sustained losses running to more than a point in some instances.

Trading was heavy right from the start and the ticker quickly fell 3 minutes behind the list.

Second Half Of Shelby League Started Here

Surprises Reign At Shelby Last Night; Cold Draw Downs Finishing No. 1

MECHANICS TROUNCE OFFICE FIVE 30-10

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 8.—A pair of stunning surprises awaited local sports fans who attended the inaugural of the second half of the Shelby inter-department basketball league last night at the auditorium floor.

In the first game of the evening the Cold Draw passers, who finished third at the end of the first half, gave the winners of that half, the Finishing No. 1, a 28-23 shellacking. Leyda and Aiello starred with nine points apiece. Captain Justine was best for the losers.

Ellwood City's Mechanical cagers pulled the real surprise of the evening by soundly trouncing the fine Office team by a 30-10 score. The Mechanics featured a fast diversified passing attack that practically swept the opposition off their feet. Starting off slowly they gathered momentum that resulted in scoring 18 points in the last quarter. The interesting part of the Mechanics' showing was that their defense was practically impregnable. Office was held to only three points throughout the entire second half. They were held scoreless in the third period. Arnold and Stasick were sensational for the victors. Patterson played the best game of the Office.

BRICK BRADFORD—In the City Beneath the Sea

Proposed Municipal Building

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 8.—Ellwood City's new proposed municipal building as designed by Architect B. J. McCandless of this city as shown above, will be the last word in modern architecture. The building, a two-story affair would house all of the city's needs. This includes all the borough offices, jail, electric light department, and fire department. There would also be waiting and recreation rooms. Arrangements have even been made for a fairly large swimming pool in the basement, when the city will be able to afford it in the future. This picture is a photograph made by William McGinney, local photographer, from the architect's drawing.

Mrs. Fred Swanson presented Mrs. Wallace with the past president's pin, who then presented the gavel to Mrs. Sidney Bersler, first vice-president who will succeed her. Mrs. Wallace also received a beautiful gift from the auxiliary which she had served as president for the past two years.

An informal social period was enjoyed during the evening. At a later hour a luncheon was served by a committee composed of Mrs. Frank Lemery, Mrs. Oliver Bauer, Mrs. John Tyler, Mrs. Charles Ross, and Mrs. Ray Wilson, who had charge of the entire affair.

Second Half Of Shelby League Started Here

Surprises Reign At Shelby Last Night; Cold Draw Downs Finishing No. 1

MECHANICS TROUNCE OFFICE FIVE 30-10

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 8.—A pair of stunning surprises awaited local sports fans who attended the inaugural of the second half of the Shelby inter-department basketball league last night at the auditorium floor.

In the first game of the evening the Cold Draw passers, who finished third at the end of the first half, gave the winners of that half, the Finishing No. 1, a 28-23 shellacking. Leyda and Aiello starred with nine points apiece. Captain Justine was best for the losers.

Bill Weiskopf's Mechanical cagers pulled the real surprise of the evening by soundly trouncing the office team by a 30-10 score. The Mechanics featured a fast diversified passing attack that practically swept the opposition off their feet. Starting off slowly they gathered momentum that resulted in scoring 18 points in the last quarter. The interesting part of the Mechanics' showing was that their defense was practically impregnable. Office was held to only three points throughout the entire second half. They were held scoreless in the third period. Arnold and Stasiek were sensational for the victors. Patterson played the best game for the Office.

ANENT TEACHERS' SALARIES.

New Castle, Pa.
February 7, 1934.

Editor, The News

Dear Sir:

The attention of The News readers has been called to the inequality of the salaries of teachers and rum clerks. The grievance is well founded, but for a more worthy reason than the salary of a rum clerk. However, it is my humble opinion that a movement to increase school teachers salaries by rum tax will arouse nobody but school teachers.

No doubt from a school teacher's point of view to raise their salaries on par with a rum clerk would correct our present social inequities, but it wouldn't.

If there is still some rum revenue appropriated, why not furnish the school children with shoes?

Salaries of school teachers should be increased, but why patch up just one hole in the roof when the whole structure is leaky.

Yours for bigger teacher salaries
LAWRENCE H. KAHRER.

IMPERFECTION

A land where never care is known
And pleasure dances up and down;
Where no one has to stand alone
Or brave a cross to gain a crown.

A land of laughter and delight
And flowers in bloom and lovers' songs.
Where one is never asked to fight
Injustice and its countless wrongs.

If Eden or Elysium
Be this and naught is left to learn;
If to their gates my soul shall come,
Then to this earth would I return.

For by the battle and the doubt
The struggle for the goal afar.
The blunders strewn so thick about Men saved from utter boredom are.
